Census likely in early 2025

Speculation on Lok Sabha seat delimitation; Key NDA ally TDP demands policy revamp

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR AND PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

STRONG indications from the Centre on Monday suggested that the much-delayed decadal Census exercise would begin in early 2025, potentially followed by the controversial delimitation of Lok Sabha constituencies. Since Census is a humongous exercise, it will take over a year for it to be wrapped up and the report cannot be published before 2026.

The year 2026 is significant because Article 82 of the Constitution says, "Provided also that until the relevant figures for the first Census taken after the year 2026 have been published, it shall not be necessary to readjust."

Speaking to this newspaper, former chief statistician Pronab Sen said the delimitation process can be carried out after completing the Census operations in 2026 if the government so desires. "We are at the end of 2024. If the process of Census starts today, the earliest you will be able to finish the exercise is by March-April 2026. It takes a year and a half just for preparation. The first step is house listing and it will take 7-8 months. Then the process of preparing for the Census begins. The Constitution says that the delimitation should be based on the first Census on or after 2026," he said.

Delimitation runs the risk of upsetting states in the South.

Speaking to this paper, the Telugu Desam Party (TDP), an NDA ally, sought reworking of the delimitation exercise. TDP MP and Parliamentary party leader Lavu Sri Krishna Devarayalu said, "The delimitation of Lok Sabha seats on the basis of population may lead to Andhra Pradesh losing out in representation as we successfully controlled population. The state shouldn't be punished for that. We want consultations with the government and various other stakeholders in reworking the policy."

As for the other demand on caste census, no decision has been taken on it yet. Year 2025 will represent the start of a new Census cycle — 2025-2035, 2035-2045. The exercise will begin with the updation of the National Register of Citizens.

ARTICLE 82

Upon the completion of each census, the allocation of seats in the House of the People to the States and the division of each State into territorial constituencies shall be readjusted by such authority and in such manner as Parliament may by law determine:

Provided further that such readjustment shall take effect from such date as President may, by order, specify and until such readjustment takes effect, any election to the House may be held on the basis of the territorial constituencies existing before such readjustment;

Provided also that until the relevant figures for the first census taken after the year 2026 have been published, it shall not be necessary to readjust

(a) the allocation of seats in the House of the People to the States as readjusted on the basis of the 1971 census; and (b) the division of each State into territorial constituencies as may be readjusted on the basis of the 2001 census, under this article

AI growth disrupting jobs, warns report

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

THE growing deployment of artificial intelligence (AI) tools in several sectors is casting a shadow over employment stability in India, the Union Finance Ministry said in its monthly economic review.

"Anecdotal reports of the deployment of Artificial Intelligence displacing workers are beginning to emerge. That needs watching," said the report for September.

The Economic Survey 2023-24, tabled in Parliament in July, had also flagged concerns of more and more companies turning to AI tools to replace human talent. "While AI has considerable potential for boosting productivity, it also has the potential to disrupt employment in certain sectors," the survey had said.

Analysing hiring trends, the Finance Ministry's report noted that there was a 7% decline in job opportunities in September 2024, compared to the same month, last year. It said the Naukri JobSpeak index witnessed an annual growth of 6% in September 2024, driven by a resurgent IT sector.

"Sectors such as FMCG and Oil & Gas also underwent significant growth and continued ascent in Artificial Intelligence/Machine Learning roles. However, hiring trends were largely favourable for experience-holders, while professionals with 0-3 years of experience saw a 7% decline in job opportunities vis-a-vis September 2023," it said.

State Cabinet decides to implement SC sub-quota

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE state cabinet on Monday decided to implement internal reservation for Scheduled Castes (SCs), for which it is constituting a one-man commission headed by a retired judge to study and gather empirical data, based on which the government will take further steps.

The commission will be given three months to submit its report to the government. Till then, all recruitment processes will be put on hold, said Minister for Law and Parliamentary Affairs HK Patil after the cabinet meeting. But the government did not seem to have any clarity on how to implement the internal quota for SCs.

SCs have 17 per cent of the total reservation and there are 101 castes among SCs in the state. The allocation of quota was done based on the 2011 census, which revealed that the population of SCs in the state was 17.5 per cent in Karnataka, while that of Scheduled Tribes 6.95 per cent. Many sub-castes among SCs have been demanding internal reservation as they feel they have not got required representation as per their population. The Basavaraj Bommai government, just before the Assembly polls in 2023, had recommended 6% internal quota for SC (Left), 5.5% for SC (Right), 4.5 per cent for touchables that include Bhovi, Korcha, etc and 1 per cent for others. In August this year, the Supreme Court ruled that the state governments will now be constitutionally empowered to make sub-classification within SCs.

Patil told reporters that there was a demand and discussion on implementing internal reservation. "The cabinet gave the approval to constitute the commission headed by a retired high court judge. The commission will collect empirical data within three months. We will decide once we get the the report," he said. P6

Pvt unit for military plane takes wings

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @ Ahmedabad

AFTER an impressive roadshow in Gujarat's Vadodara, Prime Minister Narendra Modi and his Spanish counterpart Pedro Sanchez jointly inaugurated the Tata Advanced System Limited (TASL)-Airbus plant to manufacture C-295 military aircraft in the city.

It is the country's first assembly line where at least 18,000 components of the aircraft will be manufactured. "Till now we had the vision of Make in India, now proudly we extend it to Make in India, Make for the World," Modi said.

Commissioning the project shows India's work culture has changed for good, he said. The country cannot only commission projects on time but can manufacture and deliver goods on time. In October 2022, the foundation stone of the project was laid, and within two years, work on production of a C-295 has started, he said. Modi said another plant to manufacture Bombardier train coaches was commissioned in record time. Now, coaches manufactured there are exported, proving India means business, he said.

Sanchez called Tata Group a "giant among giants". "....This partnership between Airbus and Tata will contribute to the progress of Indian aerospace industry and will open new doors for the arrival of other European companies," he said.

DCM ORDERS RS 10CR FOR B'LURU ROADS, OMITS JAYANAGAR

Oppn cries foul as seat represented by BJP MLA

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE latest order allocating Rs 10 crore for the development of roads in each assembly constituency of Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) region by Deputy Chief Minister and Bengaluru Development Minister DK Shivakumar, has given fodder for principal opposition party BJP as Jayanagar assembly segment, represented by a BJP MLA, has been left out.

The BJP lashed out at the ruling Congress, saying the government's act is nothing but vendetta politics to punish citizens for not voting Congress."The DCM speaks about Brand Bengaluru. Does his Brand Bengaluru dream exclude Jayanagar?" questioned Jayanagar MLA CK Ramamurthy.

The MLA added that his assembly constituency also needs funds to maintain parks, roads and drains. The matter was escalated to state BJP President BY Vijayendra, and the BJP will highlight the Congress government's vendetta politics, he added.

According to the order issued by the DCM using his discretionary powers, each assembly constituency in Bengaluru will get Rs 10 crore and Anekal, which is part of Bengaluru Urban district, has been allocated Rs 5 crore. In all, Rs 265 crore has been allocated.

Clarifying the order, a senior BBMP official said there is a bit of confusion, and funds will be allocated without discrimination. "In the order copy, Yelahanka assembly has been mentioned twice, which I think is due to oversight. The DCM wants to develop Bengaluru and will not discriminate. A revised order without errors is likely to be issued shortly," the official added.

The decision to release funds was taken up due to the bad condition of roads in Bengaluru. The situation worsened after last week's record rainfall in Bengaluru that battered the city and brought normal life to screeching halt, especially in North Bengaluru and the IT belts of Mahadevapura, Bommanahalli and Sarjapura Road. With heavy rain, thousands of potholes have resurfaced and are causing inconvenience to motorists.

A girl selects firecrackers at a temporary stall set up in Basavangudi, on Monday

ONLY GREEN CRACKERS ALLOWED, SAYS CM

Chief Minister Siddaramaiah said this Deepavali, only eco-friendly crackers should be sold and they should be burst from 8 pm to 10 pm. Speaking to reporters on Saturday, he said officials will register cases against shopkeepers who sell crackers other than green ones. Following the state government's order, the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) has also issued an order stating that bursting crackers will be allowed only between 8 pm and 10 pm on October 31 and November 1. ENS

A yr after Attibele cracker blast, fire dept on toes this Deepavali

RAKSHITH GOWDA @Bengaluru

WITH Deepavali around the corner, the fire and emergency services department has increased vigilance and is enforcing stringent safety protocols for firecracker stalls, especially in the wake of last year's firecracker blast mishap in Attibele in which 17 people lost their lives.

However, the department's three-day training programme to educate wholesalers and retailers on safety measures that they should follow has witnessed poor response.

Senior department officials told The New Indian Express that all cracker stalls must have requisite safety equipment.

The department has issued a circular outlining the safety measures that must be included while setting up temporary cracker stalls. The stalls should have a minimum of 10x10-sqft space and should be built only with non-combustible materials. There should be two doors -- one at the front and another at the back. Each shop should keep a five-metre gap from others.

Stall owners should mandatorily keep fire extinguishers, sand, buckets, a first-aid kit and 200 litres of water in drums, the circular said.

There should also be 'No Smoking' boards. They should also have the emergency contact numbers of the fire department and the jurisdictional police.

A senior officer said they have instructed retail shop owners not to use their outlet space for cooking and electric stoves. Shops should not store gas cylinders, waste paper or packaging material and use only ISI-marked electrical wires. The department has also advised retail store owners to install smoke or heat detectors and fire alarms.

Another officer said cracker stall owners should undergo the three-day training programme. The training covers topics such as types of crackers, their explosive potential and preventive measures to minimise risks.

He added that minor accidents can be avoided if stall owners and workers are properly trained. However, no shop keepers have come forward to attend the programme, he said.

Before the stalls are set up, the fire department will inspect the areas to ensure that there is adequate open space with a minimum six-metre space for unobstructed movement of fire tenders and to check if the stalls are away from residential areas and school premises.

"The fire department will deploy fire tenders as a precautionary measure near the stalls. Failure to adhere to safety protocols could result in the cancellation of licences and potential legal action," the officer added.

Residents protest against the BBMP by floating paper boats in Horamavu on Monday

Residents protest potholed road, collapsed drains

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

HUNDREDS of Horamavu residents took to the streets on Monday, raising slogans against the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike about the pothole-riddled Babusapalya Main Road and the stifling stench from drains. The Palike, however, termed the protest a "publicity stunt".

Varkey Thomas, a senior citizen, said with the BBMP not maintaining drains, the structures have collapsed at several places resulting in sewage flowing onto roads.

"For the last one and a half years, the issue has remained unresolved. Last week, it rained in Yelahanka and Hebbal, which are upstream areas, leading to sewage water overflowing onto roads. The roads are damaged and have become unmotorable. BBMP Major Roads Executive Engineer Bhagyamma and Assistant Executive Engineer Manjunath came to the area, but instead of resolving the issue, they dubbed the protest a publicity stunt," he said. To shame the Palike, the residents floated paper boats where water has stagnated on the stretch.

Shivakumar, Ramalinga in competition to run city affairs?

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

DEPUTY CM and Bengaluru Development Minister DK Shivakumar and Transport Minister Ramalinga Reddy appear to be shadow-boxing for control over city affairs. Recently, it came to light that both the leaders recommended names for the same post, that of an Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) Assistant Revenue Officer (ARO).

N Manjunath (valuator) has been serving as ARO in HSR Layout sub-division on an in-charge basis, and the DCM gave a note to BBMP Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath on September 18 requesting that he be continued in his current post from an administrative point of view.

Similarly, Reddy wrote to Girinath on September 5 recommending that appropriate steps should be taken to transfer N Prakash (valuator) as ARO to HSR Layout sub-division.

Meanwhile, despite an high court order that four AROs working in the BBMP should be promoted within a month, the government is still sitting on the matter. BV Veena, SN Venkatesh, V Manjunath and T Srinivas Murthy were promoted as assistant commissioner under the Cadre and Recruitment (C&R) Rules, but were not assigned to the post eve after a year.

BBMP tightens screws on illegal constructions

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

IN the wake of the building collapse in Babusapalya wherein nine construction workers died, the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike has been clearing illegal constructions across the city.

Zonal Commissioner Archana and Joint Commissioner Sangappa conducted a drive in West zone on Monday. They found that the entire 25-foot footpath was encroached by a building to build steps. The officials used an earthmover to remove the steps.

The Palike's action came after the building owner failed to remove the unauthorised construction even after being served notice. The cost of the removal operation will be recovered from the building owner, officials said.

In Mahadevpura, officials arrived at Alpha Garden in Hoodi sub-division to demolish an extra floor of an under-construction building.

Owner Suresh Tammiah had obtained permission for the construction of a ground floor +3 building on a 40x60 plot, but added the extra floor. The owner requested the BBMP to halt the drive and said he will remove the unauthorised floor within 10 days, to which the corporation agreed.

Now, adopt parks, road medians

BENGALURU: The Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) has invited applications from the general public and private organisations to adopt parks, road dividers, centre medians and junctions under the Bengaluru Namma Koduge (My Bengaluru My Contribution) initiative.

Those interested can visit the website https://www.bbmp.gov.in for more details on the adoption. The Palike said six organisations had applied in the first phase. The application for adoption should be submitted to the Deputy Director of Horticulture, Annex-03 Building, Ground Floor, Room No. 09, BBMP Head Office, by 5 pm on November 15.

For more information, people can contact: Chandrashekhar, Deputy Director, Horticulture Department, on 95350 15189. ENS

PETER VIDAL

29TH October: More about Capricorn, my sign of the day. You may not know this, but some astrologers say that India is a Capricornian country. They point to its venerable traditions, some dating back thousands of years. By the same token the country is also taking a very practical attitude to modernisation, another Capricorn trait.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
It's a moment for shedding commitments rather than taking on extra. You should pay greater attention to making your existing relationships more satisfying - and see to it that a loved one is happy. Remember that other people are far more important than financial success.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
The Moon's role in your chart is increasingly practical, but you are also being given a good deal of emotional strength and resilience. Your celestial task today is to look after other people with great kindness, care and consideration, whether you want to or not!

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
Mercury, your planetary ruler, plays a significant role in almost every important celestial aspect over the near future, even if indirectly. You may find that in one way or another, and probably without meaning to, you become the centre of attention.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
You are still passing through an outstanding and memorable period, although it looks very much as if you may be taking your good luck for granted. It's amazing what you can find to grumble about when you try! Financial stress seems to be ever-present, but will pass soon.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
You may enhance your freedom of action by taking responsibility for your own choices. Any adverse aspects between now and the end of the week will remind you that you must exert more control over your personal affairs. Deal with problems just as soon as you see them coming.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Awkward dilemmas refuse to go away! You'll be wondering whether you can adjust your own beliefs and fit in with other people's demands. But, then, should you even consider unusual offers - or just turn them down flat? You see, you might find that if you go ahead now, circumstances will have changed by the time you finish.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Stand back and take a cool look at some of your obligations. Many areas of your life must now be viewed in the cold light of day. You will have to examine details and issues that could encourage you to make long-overdue improvements in your personal affairs.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
You're still wondering whether you've made a commitment too far. Although by nature you tend to give others the benefit of the doubt, this isn't because you think they're right. It's because you lack confidence in your own ideas. Be a little more determined this week.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Pluto is the planet responsible for some of the positive forecasts made for you over the last year. It is still bugging you, but if you would only accept that a shake-up in your opinions and attitudes was necessary, you'd soon rid yourself of any lingering blues.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
As a Capricorn you know how important material security is to your well-being. It's therefore welcome news that a financial matter completed this week should allay many of your current fears. If you're over-emotional early on, don't worry; by the afternoon you'll be much more level-headed.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
You're walking a tight-rope. Make the right moves and your success will be brilliant. Even now your destiny is being shaped by a strident solar alignment which is due to stir up the heavens before very much longer. The time has come to play for even higher stakes than in the past.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
You're in a secretive mood today, keen to keep your feelings to yourself. There will be moments when you will be in a position to make snap decisions over career issues. By all means adopt a rash approach if you don't mind ending up isolated or alone. Take romantic promises with a pinch of salt.

Answer: She was unexpectedly giving birth on a trip and spent the day — LABORING AWAY

Following frequent attacks on conductors and drivers of BMTC, Transport Minister Ramalinga Reddy instructed City Police Commissioner B Dayananda to take stern action against miscreants. Reddy in his note to the commissioner on Monday said that the reason for the attacks are trivial. He urged the commissioner that the attacks be taken seriously, to create a safe working environment for BMTC drivers and conductors

Miscreants film girls swimming, attack students

3 accused barged inside farmhouse; students managed to push them out; one student critical

PRAVEEN KUMAR @Bengaluru

A group of seven degree students from Basaveshwaranagar, who had gone to a farmhouse on the outskirts of the city near Ramanagara to spend the weekend, were attacked and threatened by three unidentified miscreants. The incident happened around 10.30 pm on Saturday at the farmhouse at APS Lahout in Chikkanahalli under Ramanagara Rural police limits.

The accused allegedly barged inside the farmhouse and tried to film and take pictures of two girls who were swimming. The other victims, who tried to stop them, were attacked with wooden logs. The students managed to overpower the accused, pushed them out of the farmhouse and locked the doors. They then called the police control room.

The seven students pursuing BCom decided to go on a vacation as their college was closed for the Deepavali festival. They had gone to the farmhouse as one of the students knew the owner. "The two girls were swimming, while the others were playing antakshari. One of the students opened the door as somebody was knocking from outside. The three accused barged inside, claiming to be locals and started shouting that nobody can stop them. "They started abusing us, asking us who gave us permission. The accused then started filming the girls. When the other students tried to stop them, the accused attacked them with wooden logs," stated one of the students, who is 22 years old, in his police complaint.

> They have been subjected to medical examinations and remanded in judicial custody
> Police

After the police arrived, two seriously injured students were shifted in a car to the nearby government hospital. As the condition of one of them became critical after he developed breathing difficulties, he was admitted to a private hospital in Kengeri. When contacted, one of the students said that of the two victims, the condition of one is critical. "My friend is in ICU at a private hospital in Kengeri. His condition is extremely critical. We do not know what will happen to him," the student said. "Three accused, identified as Chandru, Nagesh and Murali, have been arrested. All three are unemployed. We suspect that they were under the influence of alcohol. They have been subjected to medical examinations and remanded in judicial custody," said an officer.

A case of attempt to murder under Section 109 of the BNS along with other sections have been registered against the accused.

Darshan's medical report submitted to HC

Bengaluru: Ballari central prison authorities submitted a medical report of actor Darshan, an accused in the Renukaswamy murder case, to the Karnataka High Court. The report suggested Darshan undergo physiotherapy or surgery. Directing the registry to serve the copy of the report to the Special Public Prosecutor and to the government advocate, Justice S Vishwajith Shetty adjourned the bail plea hearing to Tuesday. Meanwhile, senior advocate CV Nagesh submitted that Darshan had to undergo surgery for numbness in both his feet.

Truck owner ends life in Ramanagara

Bengaluru: A 41-year-old truck owner ended his life after being called for an inquiry by officials of the Department of Mines and Geology over alleged violation of permit conditions. The incident occurred near the Department of Mines and Geology premises in Ramanagara on Monday. The deceased has been identified as Nagesh, a resident of Ramanagara, and native of Chitradurga. The police said that around 1.30 pm on Monday, Nagesh visited the DGM office after receiving four show-cause notices, which he had previously failed to respond to. Before meeting the officials, he took the extreme step by hanging himself from a tree.

Min throws light on state's mental health initiatives

Bengaluru: World Mental Health Day 2024 was observed at the Bangalore Medical College and Research Institute (BMCRI) on Monday. The event revolved around this year's theme- 'It is time to prioritise mental health in workplace'. Health Minister Dinesh Gundu Rao reflected on Karnataka's achievements and mentioned that the state has established the state mental health authority and mental health review boards across all 31 districts. The minister said that through initiatives like e-Manas, Karnataka has also streamlined mental health care management in alignment with the Mental Healthcare Act (MHCA)-2017. He added that the state has successfully registered 315 mental health establishments and 423 mental health professionals. He further mentioned that the Tele MANAS helpline (14416), which operates via two centres-- in South Karnataka at Nimhans and in North Karnataka at Dimhans has received 77,145 calls as of October 25.

Dir Ranjith booked on charges of sexually assaulting man

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE BIAL police on Saturday registered an FIR against national award-winning Malayalam film director Ranjith Balakrishnan on charges of sexually assaulting a 31-year-old male artist in a hotel located near the Kempegowda International Airport in Bengaluru.

The alleged incident is said to have happened in 2012. The complaint was first filed before the Kasaba police in Kozhikode, Kerala, in August. A Kozhikode-based court granted anticipatory bail to Ranjith on September 9, which was reportedly valid for 30 days. The Kasaba police then transferred the case to the Bengaluru city police since the alleged offence occurred in the jurisdiction of the BIAL police station.

The BIAL police have registered a case under Section 377 (unnatural offences) of the IPC and Section 66E (punishment for violation of privacy) of the IT Act.

The victim, in his police complaint, has claimed that he met Ranjith in 2012 when he went to East Hill in Kerala to meet Malayalam actor Mammootty during the shooting of 'Bavuttiyude Namathil'. He has further alleged that Ranjith, after obtaining his phone number, invited him to a hotel in Bengaluru. The accused is alleged to have asked the victim to meet him in the room on the fourth floor of the hotel. Ranjith is accused of forcing the victim to consume alcohol and engaging in the alleged oral sexual acts.

"Both the complainant and the director are from Kerala. We need to take further statements from the complainant. Notice will be first served to the complainant. Thereafter, the place of occurrence shall be established based on the complainant's statement. Then, the investigation will follow," said the police.

Dementia India Alliance to Hold International Conference on Dementia Care

The Dementia India Alliance (DIA), a national NGO committed to improving dementia care, is organising an international conference, DEMCON'24, on November 29th-30th, 2024, at the JN Tata Auditorium, Indian Institute of Science, Bengaluru.

Organised in collaboration with the Department of Health and Family Welfare, Karnataka, NIMHANS, Centre for Brain Research, CommonAge, and Ramaiah Hospitals, the conference will bring together over 800 delegates from across the world.

The theme of the conference is "Reaching the Unreached in Dementia Care." The event aims to address significant gaps in dementia awareness, diagnosis, research, and care and will serve as a platform for collaborative discussions among caregivers, healthcare professionals, policymakers, corporate leaders, dementia care service providers, NGOs, and researchers.

Attendees can expect plenary sessions featuring renowned speakers and experts in dementia care, alongside presentations from organisations such as the International Federation of Ageing, CommonAge, Global Brain Health Initiative, and the Asian Society Against Dementia.

The conference will also include updates on cutting-edge research from NIMHANS and the Centre for Brain Research and offer action-oriented workshops on topics ranging from dementia-friendly hospitals to advocacy, philanthropy in dementia care, models of care and workforce development.

"We are focusing on an action-oriented approach this year," said Dr Radha S Murthy, President of the Dementia India Alliance. "The conference isn't just about raising awareness—it's about offering practical solutions that will bring help and hope to those affected by dementia "

Highlighting the conference's focus on solutions, Shyam Viswanathan, Secretary of DIA, noted, "This event is not just about discussions, it's about creating pathways for change. We are determined that DEMCON'24 will empower stakeholders with the tools, policies, and knowledge they need to implement concrete solutions that improve dementia care across India and beyond."

Family caregivers, healthcare professionals, researchers, students pursuing psychology, social work and allied health, senior citizens, service providers, and tech start-ups are encouraged to participate.

Those interested in attending or participating can register at www.demcon2024.com or contact 8585 990 990 for further details.

TECHNOLOGY INNOVATIONS IN DEMENTIA CARE

DIA is announcing Dementia Hackathon 2024 to highlight groundbreaking innovations in dementia care. This competition invites startups, innovators, and developers to present creative solutions that address challenges like early diagnosis, safe environment, and improving the quality of life for individuals with dementia. Winning entries will be awarded the title of Best Innovation in Dementia Care Technology, providing global recognition and exposure for these impactful ideas. Participants in the hackathon can showcase tools that are either patient-centric or caregiver-centric, with categories including Wearables and Sensor, Home Monitoring Systems and Cognitive Rehabilitation Tools.

MUDA: ED RAIDS 8 SPOTS IN B'LURU, MYSURU

Homes, offices of builders, ex-officials searched; MUDA ex-chief Natesh questioned

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Mysuru, Bengaluru

A week after Directorate of Enforcement (ED) officials raided the Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) office, based on a complaint filed by activist Snehamayi Krishna, ED conducted fresh raids early Monday at eight locations across Bengaluru and Mysuru.

The searches targeted residences of former MUDA officials, a builder and a developer and former zilla panchayat member Rakesh Papanna, who is also a close aide of Chief Minister Siddaramaiah. The aim was to gather more documents on alleged irregularities in allocation of sites by MUDA.

The ED conducted synchronised operations, raiding locations, including a builder's residence in Bengaluru's upscale Dollars Colony and a property in JP Nagar, and multiple offices and homes of former MUDA officials, including former commissioner DB Natesh in Malleswaram.

The raids reportedly focused on identifying financial discrepancies and reviewing documents related to the 50:50 site allocation scheme, under which MUDA plots were distributed. During these raids, significant documents and records were seized for investigation, said a source.

Meanwhile, sources revealed that several MUDA staff members have been summoned for questioning at the ED's Bengaluru office on Monday and Tuesday. Among those summoned is Gangaraju, an RTI activist, who had earlier complained of records related site reallocations going missing. He was questioned by ED and he, in turn, provided documents, including details related to a land purchased by Siddaramaiah's wife BM Parvathy, which is under ED scrutiny.

The house of former ZP member Rakesh Papanna in Mysuru, which the ED raided

The raids were also conducted on the house of builder N Manjunath, owner of Karthik Developers in Mysuru, who is implicated in the case. Manjunath allegedly bribed MUDA officials during site allocation for his Karthik Layout in Mysuru. ED officials seized documents from his residence at JP Nagar in Bengaluru and are examining his business records and bank accounts for potential evidence of financial misconduct.

A team of five officers went to Natesh's house in Malleswaram 10th Cross. Natesh, who was present at the time of the raid, was questioned in connection with the case.

The ED officials searched the flat of former MUDA commissioner GT Dinesh Kumar at Banaswadi in Bengaluru. When the officials arrived, Dinesh had gone out for a walk. But he never came back to the flat and the ED officials could not question him as he went incommunicado.

Chief Minister Siddaramaiah arrives for the cabinet meeting at Vidhana Soudha in Bengaluru on Monday | NAGARAJA GADEKAL

'Recruitments on hold for at least three months'

THE cabinet has no clarity on how the empirical data will be collected by the commission, but said the government will release terms of reference.

The press conference was also attended by Social Welfare Minister HC Mahadevappa, RDPR Minister Priyank Kharge and Food and Civil Supplies Minister KH Muniyappa. No decision has been taken on who will head the commission.

Patil said the cabinet decided to postpone all upcoming recruitments for at least three months, till the commission submits its report. "Starting Monday, no recruitment notification will be issued," he said.

Mahadevappa said the BJP government had rejected the Justice Sadashiva Commission report in 2022. "Our party had announced in our manifesto that internal reservation will be implemented and we are committed to it. Various castes among SCs, including Bhovi, Lambani, SC-Left and SC-Right, have discussed it, and they are not against internal reservation," he said. The present census report, however, does not have data on sub-castes. While Muniyappa, who has been working on this for the past many years, said there has been demand for internal reservation for the last 30-35 years.

K'taka HC stays probe against Joshi's brother

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court on Monday stayed all further proceedings and investigation against Union Minister Pralhad Joshi's brother Gopal Joshi, Vijayalakshmi Joshi G and Ajay Gopal Joshi in connection with alleged charges of cheating Rs 2 crore on the pretext of getting a parliamentary election seat for a family member of the complainant. The court also directed police to release all three accused who are in police custody.

Justice M Nagaprasanna passed the interim order after hearing the petition filed by the three accused, questioning the legality of the crime registered against them by Sunitha Chauvan before Basaveshwaranagar police in Bengaluru.

The court stated that the petitioners are said to have assured the complainant that they would secure a parliamentary election ticket and take Rs 25 lakh. The transaction ostensibly happened prior to the announcement of candidates. If the candidate was not announced, the complainant would immediately have to register a complaint, but she registered it on October 17, 2024. The counsel for the petitioners submitted that they have undertaken to refund the entire amount.

Therefore, it is a pure money claim between the petitioners and complainant. This has now been given the colour of atrocity. It was alleged that the petitioners hurled abuse in their house and admittedly, it is between four walls and not in public view to become an offence under the Scheduled Caste and Scheduled Tribe (Prevention of Atrocities) Act.

HDK, Nikhil play it cool, brush aside Congress comments on Deve Gowda

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI
@ Bengaluru

UNION Minister HD Kumaraswamy, who is pulling out all stops to ensure the victory of his son Nikhil Kumaraswamy in the November 13 Channapatna bypoll, refrained from reacting to 'provocatory' statements of ruling Congress leaders.

Former Bengaluru Rural MP DK Suresh, younger brother of DCM and KPCC president DK Shivakumar, reportedly stated on Sunday that former PM HD Deve Gowda would come by ambulance to campaign for Nikhil, to which Kumaraswamy replied that he will get his response in due time. "Not only Suresh, former MLA MC Ashwath and Magadi MLA Balakrishna also made similar statements, and I am just watching," he remarked.

Nikhil felt that such statements are in bad taste. "They said HD Deve Gowda will arrive in an ambulance for my coronation. We haven't faced such misfortune. With the blessings of the people, Deve Gowda got strength. After Diwali, he will come and join our campaign," he said on Monday.

Replying to the leaders' projection that if Yogeshwara wins, Shivakumar will become chief minister, Nikhil felt such statements were common in politics. The 36-year-old third-time contender suggested they focus on discussions on development rather than engage in political banter, reiterating the importance of constructive dialogue. A Congress leader admitted that the comment on Gowda would backfire on the Congress.

The father-son duo is hopeful that Gowda joining the campaign would polarise Vokkaliga community votes, and are looking at other options. Kumaraswamy managed to rope in the scion of the erstwhile Mysuru royal family Yaduveer Krishnadatta Chamaraja Wadiyar for the campaign. Irrespective of caste and creed, the royal family has its own supporters in the region. The portraits of Maharaja Jayacharmarajendra Wadiyar and Maharani Ammani still decorate the walls of certain family homes, alongside their family deities. There are about 13,000 voters who admire the royal family, according to sources.

Kumaraswamy and Nikhil have also decided to not to attack any Congress leader personally, including Chief Minister and Ahinda leader Siddaramaiah. On Monday, Nikhil garlanded the statue of Dr Ambedkar in an attempt to woo Dalit voters.

Special police stations to probe SC/ST atrocity cases

BENGALURU: The Karnataka Cabinet on Monday approved the setting up of 33 special police stations across the state to tackle atrocity cases, for which the recruitment of 450 police personnel has also received the nod. Social Welfare Minister HC Mahadevappa said the police personnel will handle cases related to atrocities against members of the SC/ST communities. "Our department will oversee these special police stations," he said. According to him, this is first-of-its-kind initiative in the country. The minister said that going forward, atrocity cases would be lodged in regular jurisdictional police stations, from where they would be transferred to the special police stations. Mahadevappa said there has been a delay in disposal of cases related to SC/ST atrocities. These special stations will help speed things up. ENS

Zameer may accompany Khadri to Shiggaon to withdraw nomination

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

HOUSING Minister Zameer Ahmed Khan is likely to accompany Congress rebel candidate Syed Azeempeer Khadri to his hometown Shiggoan from Bengaluru on Wednesday, to get him to withdraw his nomination papers. Since the Congress has given the bypoll ticket to Yasir Ahmed Khan, a miffed Khadri filed his nomination as an independent. Zameer, who tried to pacify Khadri's supporters, had faced retaliation, with the latter going to the extent of smashing the former's car in Shiggaon.

On Saturday, however, Zameer played envoy and arranged a meeting with Chief Minister Siddaramaiah and Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar, who claimed that Khadri has been convinced to change his mind. Khadri was hesitant to return to his constituency, fearing that his supporters would criticise his decision and pressurise him to continue in the fray. He has since been staying at Zameer's official residence.

I am still not clear as to whether to continue in the fray or withdraw my candidature, as I have to obey the orders of the CM and DCM, while also responding to the aspirations of my supporters

Syed Azeempeer Khadri

"I am still not clear as to whether to continue in the fray or withdraw my candidature, as I have to obey the orders of the CM and DCM, while also respond to the aspirations of my supporters. I will make up my mind by Wednesday," he told reporters.

Khadri rubbished the allegations of his detractors that he had worked for former CM Basavaraj Bommai in the 2023 Assembly polls. "I am a Congress loyalist, who wants to defeat the BJP in Shiggaon," he asserted.

According to sources, Khadri was promised the MLC seat, which was vacated by Channapatna Congress candidate CP Yogeshwara, whose term was until July 21, 2026, or nomination by the governor for six years, as two MLC seats are falling vacant on October 29. Khadri, who also claimed to have been running educational institutions, could be considered under the academic quota as a distinguished personality.

MLCs VENKATESH, RATHOD RETIRE TODAY

The term of two MLCs nominated by the governor will come to an end on Tuesday, as the Congress' UB Venkatesh and Prakash Rathod are retiring. The lobbying for the two posts has already begun with several aspirants, including the loyalists of CM Siddaramaiah and DCM D K Shivakumar, and AICC president Mallikarjun Kharge, throwing in their hats.

HDK ROPES IN YADUVEER FOR WIDER SUPPORT FROM VOTERS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

UNION minister HD Kumaraswamy and scion of the erstwhile Mysuru royal family Yaduveer Krishnadatta Chamaraja Wadiyar, hitting the campaign trail for Channapatna NDA candidate Nikhil Kumaraswamy, launched a scathing attack against the Congress government on Monday.

"This government has been showing animosity and harassing the family which has made significant contributions for the development of the state," he said at a public meeting in Kudluru village. He expressed concern that the government was working to distance the deity Chamundeshwari, the Wadiyar dynasty goddess and family deity.

"The Chamundeshwari pilgrimage site was historically under the royal family's care. The family has done considerable work for development of the area. The Maharajas have made unparalleled contributions to the state's development, irrigation, education and industrial growth," Kumaraswamy remarked, alleging that Siddaramaiah had harassed such a family. He accused the Congress government of stripping the family of the opportunity to serve the deity.

"The Congress government has been harassing the Mysuru royal family by distancing Goddess Chamundeshwari from them," he alleged. He was referring to the government setting up the Shree Chamundeshwari Kshetra Development Authority.

Yaduveer, who made an indirect attack against Siddaramaiah through his campaign at Devarahosahalli village, alleged that the Congress government is mired in corruption and has derailed the economy. The robust economy has lost its balance in the one-and-half years of Congress regime, he alleged.

"The state Congress government is mired in corruption. Since coming to power, it has been embroiled in scandals. Nikhil Kumaraswamy played a significant role in the padyatra against the MUDA scandal from Bengaluru to Mysuru, showcasing his leadership qualities. He has all the opportunity to grow as a good leader. The people of Channapatna should support Nikhil," said Wadiyar.

Yaduveer stated that under Modi's leadership, India is developing rapidly, and Kumaraswamy is working actively in the cabinet. He volunteered to campaign for another four days in the run-up to the November 13 polling.

BJP politicising issue with polls in mind: Ministers

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

EVEN as the BJP leaders continued their tirade against the State Government for allegedly issuing notices to farmers in Vijayapura district, senior ministers in the Siddaramaiah government hit out at the Opposition for trying to politicise the issue ahead of Assembly elections in Maharashtra and Jharkhand as well as the bypolls to three Assembly segments in Karnataka.

The ministers reiterated that the Waqf Board has no intention of acquiring any land belonging to farmers. Addressing a joint press conference in Bengaluru, Industries Minister MB Patil, Revenue Minister Krishna Byre Gowda, and Waqf and Minority Affairs Minister BZ Zameer Ahmed Khan clarified that no notices were issued to any farmers in Honawad village, as claimed by BJP leaders.

Krishna Byre Gowda said Vijayapura district originally had 14,201.32 acres designated as Waqf land. Over time, 11,835.29 acres were granted to farmers under the Land Reforms Act, and 1,459.26 acres were allotted under the Inam Abolishment Act, he said. An additional 137 acres were acquired for various projects, leaving 773 acres under Waqf institutions' control, he said, clarifying that in Honavada village in Tikota taluk, only 11 acres belong to Waqf, and no eviction notices have been issued to farmers. Gowda noted that the 1974 notification mistakenly listed 'Honavada' in brackets following 'Vijayapura Mahalbagayata', but this was corrected in a 1977 notification.

The minister, however, admitted that in Indi taluk, a tahsildar updated the land records (in column 11 of the Pahanis) for 41 properties without issuing prior notice, violating protocol. Affected farmers can now present land records predating 1974 to the Assistant Commissioner, and any lands verified as legitimate will be denotified, he said. Gowda said they will take action against the tahasildar for updating land records without giving notice.

According to the details provided by the ministers, after Waqf Adalat was held in Vijayapura on October 7, 2024, notices were issued in 124 properties in possession of 433 people, and mutation was done in 44 properties. Mutation in Column 11 of the RTC has been done in Indi taluk for 41 properties without issuing notice to the concerned and hence suomoto appeal has been filed in the court of Assistant Commissioner, Indi for rectification. Honavada is in Tikota taluk.

If it is genuinely farmers' land it will be given to them, Patil said and added that a task force headed by the deputy commissioner has been constituted to look into it. He said the BJP team is visiting Vijayapura district on Tuesday to ascertain the facts and officials have been told to provide them all the details.

Zameer said in Vijayapura, 1,345 acres of Waqf land have been encroached upon, none of which have been officially allotted to anyone. Of this, around 26 acres are currently under legal dispute in court. The remaining 1,319 acres are in the unauthorised possession of individuals or institutions, and efforts are underway to address this issue. "We are not seeking any other land in Vijayapura beyond these encroached properties," Zameer added. He said they do not want any land owned by farmers. Only 11 acres in Honavada are Waqf property, contrary to claims of 1,200 acres, he said.

BJP team visiting Vijayapura

A team of BJP leaders headed by former DyCM and MP Govind Karjol and consisting of seven other members, including MLA Basangouda Patil Yatnal, will meet the farmers in Vijayapura and submit a report to the party state president on problems faced by farmers due to Waqf properties.

TG HC: No coercive action against KTR's bro-in-law

Hosted family-oriented event, argues counsel

TG NAIDU @ Hyderabad

JUSTICE B Vijaysen Reddy of the Telangana High Court on Monday directed the Station House Officer (SHO), Mokila police station, to "not take any coercive steps" against Pakala Rajendra Prasad until October 30, while instructing the latter to cooperate with the investigation.

Prasad, the brother-in-law of BRS working president KT Rama Rao is accused of arranging a party at his farmhouse in Janwada on October 26.

The Court was hearing a lunch motion petition filed by Prasad seeking a stay on proceedings under FIR No. 311/2024, registered on October 27 charging him under Sections 25, 27, and 29 of the Narcotic Drugs and Psychotropic Substances (NDPS) Act, 1985, and Sections 3 and 4 of the Telangana Gaming Act, 1974.

Senior counsel Mayur Reddy, appearing for Prasad, argued that his client was a technologist and founder of ETG Group that provides software and application services. He said that his client hosted a family-oriented housewarming event. Mayur Reddy stressed that no drugs were found on the site and asserted that the case was politically motivated. He pointed to a notice served by police to Prasad at 9.30 am on Monday, requiring him to appear at 11 am, as an intimidation tactic.

Additional Advocate General (AAG) Mohd. Imran Khan, during the arguments, said that the event was "like a rave party". Imran Khan stated that the police would act accordingly if further evidence emerges.

Justice Reddy recalled previous orders concerning pubs in localities Jubilee Hills and Banjara Hills and gated communities, and noted that incidents of accidents and noise pollution associated with substance abuse are rising, particularly among affluent youth. He suggested the AAG consider restrictions on these establishments and adjourned the case for further proceedings.

'Accused Vijay did not appear for questioning'

Hyderabad: Mokila police said that Vijay Madduri, a guest who reportedly tested positive for cocaine during raids at a party in a Janwada village farmhouse on Saturday night, did not appear for questioning on Monday. An officer from Mokila police station told TNIE that Madduri cited his spouse's poor health as the reason for his absence. On Sunday, police issued notices under Section 35(3) of the Bharatiya Nagarik Suraksha Sanhita to both Madduri and Pakala, asking them to appear for questioning on Monday morning.

HYDERABAD: Owing to a hoax bomb threat, an IndiGo flight (6E 409) that took off for Visakhapatnam from Hyderabad Airport on Monday afternoon was delayed by about two and a half hours at the Vizag Airport for its next journey to Mumbai. The flight left at the scheduled time of 1:22pm and arrived Visakhapatnam at 2:31pm.

4 RSS workers get life for killing CPM man

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Kannur

FOUR RSS workers were on Monday sentenced to life imprisonment for the murder of a CPM worker at Thalassery in Kerala's Kannur district in 2011. The Thalassery Additional Sessions Court also ordered each of the convicts—Pranu Babu, Nidheesh, Shijin, and Ujesh—to a pay fine of ₹50,000 to the family of the victim, Asharaf.

There were eight accused in the original chargesheet. Two of them—Shijith and Sujith—died before the trial began. Two others—Binesh and M R Sreejith—were acquitted citing lack of evidence.

As per the case, eight persons associated with the RSS and BJP attacked CPM worker Ashraf around 9.30 am on May 19, 2011, while he was selling fish on the Kappummal--Subedar road in Thalassery. They gang allegedly killed him due to political enmity.

The prosecution said the reason behind the attack was that Ashraf and some other CPM members allegedly destroyed RSS flags during a rally to celebrate the victory of CPM leader K K Narayanan in the Assembly election from Dharmadam in May 2011.

According to the chargesheet, the accused persons assembled unlawfully, armed with deadly weapons, and committed rioting. They wrongfully restrained Ashraf, preventing his escape. Thereafter, they voluntarily inflicted grievous injuries on the victim, it said.

Ashraf was critically injured with wounds all over his body. He died two days later at 3.50 am on May 21 while undergoing treatment at a private hospital in Kozhikode. A total of 26 witnesses were examined by the prosecution in the court.

Girl taking selfie falls into 15-ft gorge, rescued after 20 hours

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI @ Tumakuru

NONE, including None, including her parents and rescuers, believed that Hamsa S Gowda (20) would come out alive after sliding into a 15-foot gorge at the sluice of Mydala tank near here and being stuck there overnight.

It was a rebirth for Hamsa, studying her 3rd semester chemical engineering at Siddaganga Institute of Technology.

It was around 3.30 pm on Sunday that Hamsa and her schoolmate Keerthana visited Mandaragiri Hills, a picnic spot. The waterfall at the sluice of the tank attracted them. While taking a selfie, Hamsa slipped and was washed away. Keerthana called up Hamsa's parents, who informed the police.

A police team, led by DySP Chandrashekar and Kyathsandra PSI Chethan Kumar, and the fire brigade crew launched the operation. But they could not trace Hamsa till 7 pm. The operation resumed at 8 am on Monday. They restricted the water flow by placing sand bags. They then could hear Hamsa's screams.

Though Hamsa had suffered some bruises, she could wave from the crevice. She was pulled out by noon, and by then she had spent nearly 20 hours in the dark space.

She was shifted to the hospital and her condition is stable. Hamsa said, "I gathered courage by praying to god and my parents. I had faith as I had seen such rescue operations being successful on TV. I am grateful to the rescuers. I appeal to all not to be obsessed with selfies."

MIDDLE CLASS'S ECONOMIC DISTRESS NO LONGER HIDDEN

CONSUMER goods companies in India are facing the crisis of a 'missing middle class'. The sector has reported muted revenue growth and, more worryingly, negative or flat volume growth in the second quarter of the financial year. This has been the story for two or three quarters for most companies. Nestlé's India chief recently pointed out the 'missing middle class' syndrome that companies like his are facing. Earlier this year, Asian Paints' managing director said that the GDP growth numbers were not getting reflected in paint sector sales. Others have also highlighted the principal pain points—weak wage growth and muted consumption.

The government's own numbers show that private consumption grew at 4.4 percent in 2023-24. Though private consumption grew at 7.5 percent in the April-June 2024 quarter, it was primarily because of the low base a year ago. The September quarter could again show a slowdown in consumption. The muted growth in the consumer goods sector has largely been attributed to stubborn food inflation, which touched 9.24 percent in September after remaining below 6 percent for two months. In the last one year, the average food inflation has been 8.11 percent. RBI's inflation targeting seems to be ineffective in curbing food inflation, and that is a cause for concern. Even sectors such as auto, where price sensitivity is low, have started facing the heat.

Inflation severely affects the purchasing power of the middle class. A recent SBI Research report said that the Indian middle class has shifted from an annual income range of ₹1.5-5 lakh to ₹2.5-10 lakh over the last 10 years. However, the average inflation during this period was 5.5 percent, which means a person earning ₹5 lakh in 2013-14 had to earn ₹8.6 lakh in 2023-24 to maintain the same lifestyle. Wage growth over the past decade was hit by multiple factors—an economic slowdown from 2016-17 to 2019-20 and the Covid pandemic from 2020-21 to 2021-22. High inflation and erratic wage growth resulted in household savings plummeting to 18.4 percent of GDP in 2022-23, the lowest in the last five years. India's middle class is in distress—and no amount of sugar-coating facts and figures can hide the reality anymore.

TIME TO NURTURE NEXT ERA OF CRICKET GREATS

FOR the first time since the winter of 2012, the Indian men's Test side have lost a series. Against the visiting New Zealand team, the hosts—who were favourites to make it to 19 series wins—came a cropper. The Black Caps, who had won only two Tests in 69 years of touring India, have now won two in under two weeks. There are various ways to read the predicament, but almost all of them would acknowledge the end of an incomparable era.

Why did the hosts lose? We could say they fell after two bad tosses, but that would miss the point. It's undeniable that some of our batters are approaching the end of their careers and the team has entered a phase of transition. The likes of Cheteshwar Pujara, Ajinkya Rahane and Wriddhiman Saha—three players who were part of multiple series wins in India—are no longer there. Their replacements are young batters with some teething problems. Among the bowlers, Ravichandran Ashwin and Ravindra Jadeja, two greats who have more 810 Test wickets between them, are also on the wrong side of 35. In the Bengaluru and Pune Tests, they were outbowled by younger spinners. The management will continue to put its faith in them, but they need to be replaced in the medium term. One school of thought says that this could well be their last home series together.

A similar situation had happened when India lost a series to England in 2012—legends needed to be replaced by some young players with potential. Virender Sehwag and Sachin Tendulkar retired in the next year or so as Virat Kohli came to prominence. In batting, the team management wants to adopt an attacking approach. You can debate whether that is the right way to play the longest format, but that is the kind of resource we have at hand. The team is now blessed with a few aggressive, young batters—Yashasvi Jaiswal, Shubman Gill, Rishabh Pant and Sarafaraz Khan. So it makes sense to play a brand of cricket they are familiar with. They will mature a bit more before the next home Test series next August—and hopefully be part of a new winning team.

AREN'T you 6 years late?" That was the response of Justice A K Jayasankaran Nambiar of the Kerala High Court while hearing a plea challenging the constitution of the Hema Committee. A redacted version of the committee's report was released this August, revealing widespread sexual abuse and gender discrimination in the Malayalam film industry. The petitioner's challenge was based on the point that the committee had been set up by Kerala's culture ministry without consulting other departments. Rather than trying to suppress the work of such a pathbreaking inquiry on mere technicality, the need is to continue with the investigations triggered by the report's revelations.

In the new era of consumerism, marketers try to make you keep replacing products. Consumers must have the option of extending the life of what they own

THE TERMINATOR GENE IN OUR EVERYDAY PRODUCTS

HARISH BIJOOR

SOURAV ROY

MY smartphone is 10 years old. My car is 15. The pair of denims I am wearing is 15-plus years young. I have absolutely no desire to replace any of them all too soon. They are well maintained. Yes, they don't look very new, but each performs to an extent. The important point is that I don't want to replace things that are performing well enough. I can stretch the life of what I use. Why clutter Earth?

It's good and positive idealism, one would say. But there are challenges. Many issues as you and I grapple to extend the lives of what we use and wear every single day. Many of these are items that gobble up big, one-time expenditures. Let me explore some of these challenges.

For a start, my phone is performing less and less. Every three years, it has gotten slower than before. Software updates from the manufacturer have stopped. Many apps just don't work. The battery needs to be charged more frequently. But when it comes to basic calling, all is good. When I bought this model, it was the latest. It cost the world. Today, it is possibly among the oldest running ones and has no monetary value.

A whole world of consumers have been enticed to upgrade with every passing new model launched. Every new model has of course added exciting bells and whistles. Every new model is more expensive than the last. Data from the developed markets of the world indicate smartphone replacement cycles to be all of 21 months today.

Mobiles in the old days had two distinct parts. One was the device, and the other was the replaceable and rechargeable battery. When one battery expended its life, you could replace the same with a new one, and at least in terms of power, the phone was as good as new. As the days passed, manufacturers decided to merge the two together.

Today, most models come without a battery you can remove. The device and battery are fused into one. If the battery performs less, your phone performs less as well. And that is a potent nudge to replace your phone, never mind how good the device and its software update status is. To an extent, this merging of battery and device into a 'unibody' is a way of getting you and I to replace earlier than before.

Today, mobile phone manufacturers clearly tell you (in the fine print leaflets that accompany your phone) that Android updates up to two years are guaranteed and security patches up to three. After that, you and your phone live in limbo. Add to it the fact that batteries seem to perform less and less, despite a vigorous degree of improvement in the science of enhancement of battery life.

Somehow, in a rather obvious manner, there seems to be a movement among marketers of mobile phones to add a rather quiet quotient of a terminator gene into what they market. It is as if the marketer is telling you to replace your device every three years. If not, you suffer quietly, till the inefficiency of your phone will make you upgrade.

The yen to upgrade has bitten consumer society in a big way today. We do this in the realm of items of cosmetic value such as garments, and equally in items of utility value such as cars, refrigerators, washing machines and mobile phones. The buzz phrases of 'mindful consumption', the 'circular economy' and 'reduce, reuse, recycle' remain largely niche movements in the minds of niche consumers.

The horse of consumerism has bolted long ago, and the new reality of the day seems to be the clutter of products and brands that want to make you replace faster than ever before. The mountains of e-waste and equal mountains of rags that emanate from old and discarded garments are the new reality to battle.

As we stand at the important point of time when we change full generations of people (on December 31, 2025 the Alpha generation will be complete and establish itself to be the single largest living generation), I believe it is time for the young to take charge of everything older people like I have sullied.

The Alpha generation has possibly the biggest responsibility to reverse all that is hurting the earth. The right to repair movement, the right to reuse movement and indeed myriad such movements in every sphere of commercial activity is the opportunity ahead. I do believe the Alpha generation will grab this and make the world a better place to live in for the generations that will follow.

In terms of consumer movements ahead, I believe it is now time for consumers to sit up and demand a kind of right to information in marketing. The consumer is a very important element in the marketing process. There are only two kinds of people. One is a 'marketing' person and the other is a 'marketed-to' person. The latter is much larger than the former.

Marketers need to stay responsible to the large mass of 'marketed-to' people and the marketed-to person needs to appropriate for himself the right to ask. An RTI in the marketing process would give the right to every consumer to ask the right questions and get the correct answers. Not the politically correct answers, but the correct ones.

While my 15-year old car is a threatened species (thanks to government policy as well), and might just be asked to go with the logic of it being a more polluting vehicle than more recent engines, the mobile phone category is one that needs to sit up and smell the unarticulated disgruntlement of the earth and its people. Marketing must and can never swim against consumer sentiment. If the consumer asks, he will get. The consumer needs to sit up and ask. The regulators in the space of telecom might want to help as well.

So, phone software updates must not dry up as early as they do. Today, such updates are needed for e-bikes and e-cars. This will spread to more and more categories—and that is the point of worry.

The choice to use and extend the life of what you use should be yours, not that of the manufacturer and brand. Your phone must not crash on you to make you replace it. Your e-car must not do the same. Not your e-bike as well. You and I must not be at the mercy of the marketer. It should be the other way round. Right?

INDIA-CHINA TANGO TESTS FLUID METRICS OF PATRIOTISM

C P SURENDRAN

Poet, novelist, and screenplay writer. His latest novel is One Love and the Many Lives of Osip B

THE Delhi Police arrested Prabir Purkayastha, editor of NewsClick, on October 3, 2023, as part of an investigation into allegations of Chinese funding for his media platform. The proceedings were initiated under the Unlawful Activities Prevention Act (UAPA), which is typically applied in cases involving terrorism and national security. Those who go in under the Act tend to not come out soon.

The investigations against the journalist gained momentum following a report by The New York Times—ironically enough, a great bastion of the brown-in-skin, white-at-heart Indian liberal—on August 5, which claimed the news channel received significant financial support from Neville Roy Singham, an American billionaire and founder of a tech company.

Singham denied the allegations and said he had no ties to the Chinese government. I had critiqued NYT and the government in a column of mine at the time. There were confused cries of protest and outrage from both sides of the spectrum. There were, too, lusty demands for prosecuting Singham on vague and vengeful patriotic aspirations as the money he allegedly piped in promoted Chinese interests. Nothing came off the patriotic fervor against Singham. Or China, as it turns out.

On May 15, 2024, the Supreme Court ruled that Purkayastha's arrest was illegal, citing the Enforcement Directorate's failure to provide proper written grounds for his detention. He was released on bail.

Some two months later, on July 24, the finance ministry tabled the Economic Survey of India for 2023-2024, and discreetly advised a 'nuanced' approach to China in terms of foreign direct investments. Essentially, the Survey recommended opening doors to the Chinese capital. It seemed to surprise few, certainly none of them patriots.

Was there a connection between the momentous discovery that the journalist's arrest was suddenly illegal and that the Economic Survey found China equally cleared of all villainy? Surely, you couldn't keep an Indian citizen in jail for an alleged partnership with Chinese capital when the whole country was looking for a larger share of it? What turns enemies into friends? Money.

Last fortnight, India said it had resolved the border issue since the Galwan Valley clash with China that killed 20 Indian soldiers—and it certainly looked like India had been worsted, despite patriotic padding up of the factual event—in July 2020.

And last week, on the sidelines of the BRICS summit in Kazan, Russia, PM Narendra Modi and Chinese President Xi Jinping shook hands, Modi looking at Xi, Xi at the world, as if nothing had happened between 2014, when the two shared one swing and many sweets in Ahmedabad, and now—except Galwan and 20 dead soldiers. The interrupted honeymoon was back on track, perhaps with some added caution on India's side. China is too big to care.

AFP

> Consumers in several cities publicly trashed Chinese products after China's aggression on our borders and the death of Indian soldiers. Now that the government is working on a rapprochement, what happens to the people who were persecuted on allegations of links to our neighbour?

That Modi and his government are executing these somersaults in India's interests is beyond doubt. India currently faces a trade deficit with China, reported at around $85 billion. To address this, India is looking at options to shift from importing Chinese goods to encouraging Chinese companies to set up manufacturing within India. By doing so, India could potentially export to third-party markets.

A side benefit would be to help the West lessen their dependence on China as the sole supply-chain. But this looks a bit unreal, at least for the near future. In a recent interview, Apple CEO Tim Cook said the reason why China is the world's workshop is the quality and quantity of its tooling engineers. He said even in the US, the number of tooling engineers can perhaps fill a large room; in China, they fill up many football grounds. India is way behind in this respect.

China has been expanding its Belt and Road Initiative globally and while India is not an official partner, increased economic interactions could open indirect corridors for Indian interests.

Infrastructure and tech investments in India would allow Chinese companies to establish logistical networks, tapping into routes that could enhance the connectivity of the BRI without India's direct participation. Nevertheless, India stands to benefit.

Still, the fact remains that the BJP and sections of the media that supports it went on and on painting the giant friend-turned-enemy-turned-friend across the Himalayas in the darkest shades. Opposition leaders like Rahul Gandhi and Sonia Gandhi were portrayed as having signed secret agreements with the Chinese Communist Party to sabotage India's interests. What happens to those charges? Because effectively speaking, those were allegations of sedition.

No such questions are being raised now. China has overnight become a benign neighbor. Most of us seem to have pretty much accommodated the U-turn without asking for a clear explanation.

To be sure, the diffusion of the border issue was always vital. The trade deals are for India's good. To be sure, too, we are back to the Nehruvian ideal of India-China bhai-bhai. Does the present government then subscribe to the Nehruvian notion of ties with China as a practical necessity and not an expression of misfired romance?

If you were a true-blood patriot snarling at China till the other day, how do you explain that jingoism now? Should you feel foolish at the excess of enmity you conjured? Is patriotism an on-now, off-now project whose tap is in the government's hands?

Purkayastha is out, fortunately. But those others in jail for years now under similar charges would like to know when they would cease to be worthy of the UAPA, since the metrics of patriotism seem—for good reasons or bad—so arbitrary, so fluid.

Disappearing jobs

Ref: Worrying drop in worker headcount in rural jobs scheme (Oct 28). The MGNREGS programme is one of the important measures of eradicating poverty in rural areas. It helps create infrastructural assets. Deletion of lakhs of rural workers from the rolls on technical grounds such as the Aadhaar-based payment system is really shocking.

Safety net

The alarming drop in active workers under MGNREGS is a warning siren for rural India. With 39 lakh deletions and 16.6 percent fewer person-days, families are losing their lifelines. Wrongful deletions and Aadhaar hurdles are like thorns in a garden. It's imperative that the government acts swiftly to restore this vital safety net.

'Global N-monitoring system transparent'

Executive Secy of Comprehensive N-Test-Ban Treaty Organization is confident about maintaining global security

ON October 5, two earthquakes struck Iran's Semnan province, sparking rumours of a nuclear test. This fuelled uncertainty across West Asia, especially against the backdrop of the ongoing Israel-Iran conflict. These claims were promptly refuted by the Comprehensive Nuclear-Test-Ban Treaty Organization (CTBTO), based in Vienna, which runs an International Monitoring System (IMS) designed to detect even the smallest indication of a nuclear test. In an interview with SV Krishna Chaitanya, Dr Robert Floyd, Executive Secretary of the CTBTO, shared insights into how scientific data was used to dispel these rumours. He also discussed the CTBTO's role in maintaining global security amid rising nuclear tensions, and the organisation's efforts to engage with countries like India. Excerpts:

Verbatim

Recent reports in Iran sparked speculation about a possible N-test. The CTBTO quickly clarified. Can you walk us through what happened and how the International Monitoring System (IMS) helps in such a situation?
The CTBTO's International Monitoring System (IMS) is a global network of over 300 monitoring facilities, hosted by 89 countries. This network, currently more than 90% complete, uses seismic, infrasound, hydroacoustic, and radionuclide technologies to detect nuclear explosions anywhere in the world — above ground, under water, and underground.

In this case, 25 of our seismic stations picked up two seismic events on October 5 in the Semnan province of northern Iran. Our team in Vienna then analysed data and found that these events were consistent with previous earthquakes in the region, in 2015 and 2018. Using this data, our analysts can distinguish natural events from possible nuclear test explosions, and we share this reliable, verified data with all our member-states. This contributes to countering the spread of misinformation.

Disinformation around seismic events can easily fuel public fear. How does the CTBTO ensure transparency and build trust?
Transparency and trust are at the heart of our mission. Data gathered by IMS is shared with all member-states in near real-time. This ensures that they all have access to the same reliable, scientifically verified data, allowing them to make informed assessments.

Beyond sharing data with our member-states, we are committed to keeping the public informed through various communication channels. In cases like the recent earthquakes in Iran, we use social media, web stories, and other outreach platforms to provide accurate info. It's also worth noting that the treaty includes mechanisms like confidence building measures and provisions for consultation and clarification, all designed to increase transparency and build trust. Since the CTBT has not yet entered into force, we are not able to activate these tools at this time.

With more than 90% of the IMS facilities already operational, how does the system continue to evolve to meet demands?
We are focused on several key areas to ensure the IMS network keeps pace with emerging needs and advances in technology. To achieve this, the ongoing support of our member-states is crucial. They have already made significant investments in the IMS, and their continued contributions allow us to maintain and further develop what is already the most effective network of its kind. We also continue to seek opportunities for collaboration with experts, industry leaders, and academic institutions to stay at the forefront of technological advancements.

We are seeing rising tensions with one country enriching uranium at high levels, another threatening to test or use nuclear weapons. What role does the CTBTO play in maintaining global security?
Let me first say that it is important to remember that our work goes beyond detection; it's about creating a world that fully rejects nuclear testing, ensuring lasting peace, stability, and security for all. It's hugely encouraging that the vast majority of the international community supports the object and purpose of our Treaty — with 187 signatures and 178 ratifications. This momentum continues to build.

Fifty years ago, India conducted its first N-test. Today, where do we stand with N-testing globally, and how has the CTBT impacted the frequency and nature of such tests?
Since India's first nuclear test 50 years ago, the world has made great progress in curbing nuclear testing, and the CTBT has played a key role in this shift. To put this into context: after the first atomic test in 1945, more than 2,000 nuclear tests were conducted at 60 different sites around the world. Since the CTBT opened for signature in 1996, fewer than a dozen tests have taken place. In this century, only one state has conducted a test — a remarkable reduction. This is largely due to a voluntary moratorium observed by countries around the world and the strong norm established by the CTBT.

The Treaty has not only drastically reduced the number of tests but has also strengthened the global consensus that nuclear testing is unacceptable in today's world.

This year, a report was published suggesting India may revoke its voluntary moratorium on N-testing...
Today, we are witnessing a renewed global determination to see the CTBT enter into force. If any country were to reconsider its voluntary moratorium on nuclear testing, it would certainly be a cause for concern. However, it's important to remember that the CTBT has established a strong global norm, upheld by the collective commitment of countries worldwide.

NIA steps up security to check threats, ropes in cyber wing at airports

MUKESH RANJAN @New Delhi

IN the wake of numerous threat calls to airlines, anti-terror probe agency National Investigation Agency (NIA) has deployed Bomb Threat Assessment Committee (BTAC) team with sleuths drawn from its cyber wing at each of the major aviation infrastructure facilities, officials said on Monday.

Airline operators have received more than 400 hoax calls in the past two weeks, prompting widespread concern regarding the potential implications for passenger safety and national security.

The officials said that to effectively deal with emerging situations out of such threats, the NIA cyber wing has launched a comprehensive analysis of the calls coming from overseas. Its investigation is focused on determining the motives behind threat calls and assessing their authenticity.

As part of the exercise, the NIA has deployed a BTAC team at each of the major airports and they have been tasked to step up security protocols and effectively identify and eliminate real threats before they can escalate, ensuring the safety of air travel.

A senior official said that the NIA is not acting alone as it is collaborating with various other security agencies, cooperation among them "is crucial for conducting thorough investigations into threat calls and implementing enhanced security measures at airports". He added, "By clubbing resources and gathering information, the agencies aim to create a robust response system capable of managing any potential threats in real time."

'Logistical challenge'

Hoax bomb threat calls in big numbers are not only a "logistical challenge" for security agencies, but also pose "a serious risk of diverting resources away from genuine threats", NIA officials said. Steps are being taken to scrutinise authenticity of calls.

The official said that the BTAC team "is trained and capable of responding quickly to any reported threats or emergencies, bolstering the safety of civil aviation infrastructure across the country".

The hoax threat calls in big numbers are not only a "logistical challenge" for security agencies, but they also pose "a serious risk of diverting resources away from genuine threats". So, the steps are being taken to scrutinise the authenticity of each call rigorously, the officials said.

'Will continue to bat for caste census'

PREETHA NAIR @New Delhi

AMID reports that the Narendra Modi government is likely to begin the process of conducting the long-delayed population census, its ally Janata Dal (U) said the party will continuously advocate the cause of 'caste census.' Though the Union government is likely to begin the census exercise next year and complete it by 2026, there is no clarity on conducting a caste-based census, a demand by opposition parties as well as the ruling NDA allies such as JD(U), TDP, Lok Janshakti Party, Republican Party of India (RPI) and Apna Dal.

Speaking to this newspaper, former Rajya Sabha MP and JD (U) leader KC Tyagi said his party has consistently demanded a nationwide caste census. "I hope good sense prevails," he said. "However, we don't want any friction with the government. We are not going to withdraw our support on it," he said, adding that BJP's ideological mentor RSS is also of the view that caste census is an important tool to ensure the welfare of marginalised communities.

"We raised the demand for a caste census even when we were a BJP ally in Bihar and when not a part of the government. We are continuously advocating for this noble cause. We have conducted a caste survey in Bihar and shown the way," said Tyagi. The Bihar caste survey revealed that other backward and extremely backward classes constituted 63% of the state's population.

Recently Andhra Pradesh CM N Chandrababu Naidu, a key BJP ally, also supported the caste census in an interview and said it has to be done to "honour the sentiment" of the people. "Caste census, yes, it has to be done. There is sentiment, and there is nothing wrong with it. You do a caste census, you do an economic analysis, and you go for a skill census. You work out how to build all these things and reduce economic disparities," he said.

Another NDA ally Union Minister and Lok Janshakti Party (Ram Vilas) chief Chirag Paswan also asserted that he is in favour of such a census. Other NDA allies, the Republican Party of India (RPI) and Apna Dal, have also been batting for caste census in Parliament.

In earlier interviews with this newspaper, RPI chief and union minister Ramdas Athawale asserted that his party is committed to conducting a nationwide caste census and will exert pressure on the Centre.

Responding to the report, Congress MP Manickam Tagore said the government's refusal to conduct a caste census is a betrayal of the OBC communities. Opposition parties and NDA allies argue that since the last caste based census was conducted in 1931, it should be now carried out to enumerate the exact population of each backward community.

After the caste census, policy decisions and programmes can be formulated in proportion to the population. Meanwhile, Congress called for an all-party meeting to get clarity on whether the next census would include a detailed enumeration of all castes and whether the census will be used for determining the strength of each state in the Lok Sabha.

Congress general secretary in-charge communications Jairam Ramesh said the extension of the tenure of the Registrar General and Census Commissioner has been notified and it means that the long-delayed Census that was due in 2021 will finally be conducted soon. "But there is still no clarity on two crucial issues. Will this new census include a detailed enumeration of all castes in the country, in addition to that of SC and ST that have been done in every Census since 1951? " Ramesh said in a post on X.

Delimitation policy needs a relook, address Andhra concerns, says TDP

PREETHA NAIR @New Delhi

THE Centre is expected to begin the next census in 2025 and the delimitation process by 2027. However, its key ally Telugu Desam Party (TDP) said the delimitation policy should be reworked and the concerns of Andhra Pradesh should be taken into consideration. Several southern states have flagged their concerns that if 2026 delimitation was done based on population census, it would reduce the representation of southern states in Parliament.

Speaking to this newspaper, TDP MP and parliamentary party leader Lavu Sri Krishna Devarayalu said the delimitation policy should be reworked and more consultations with stakeholders should tae place to address the state's concerns. Andhra Pradesh shouldn't be penalized for successfully managing its population, he said.

"Andhra Pradesh shouldn't lose out on seats and political representation. We have done well in population policy and we shouldn't be punished for that," he said. The Constitution says that delimitation should be done based on the 1971 census, he added.

Government sources said following the decadal census, the delimitation of Lok Sabha seats will commence, and the exercise is likely to be completed by 2028. Sources say the thinking in the government is that the next Lok Sabha elections in 2029 can be carried out after delimitation and the women's reservation Bill can also be implemented.

Recent remarks by Andhra Pradesh Chief Minister N Chandrababu Naidu and his counterpart in Tamil Nadu MK Stalin advising people to have more children has again put the spotlight on delimitation and its fallout on southern states with lower population indices. There is a fear among the southern states, which have successfully controlled the population growth, that a reconfiguration based on current census data could drastically cut their representation in Lok Sabha..

Tamil Nadu and Kerala taken together will lose 16 seats, if Lok Sabha seats are redistributed across states after the delimitation exercise scheduled to be conducted after 2026, according to a research paper for the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, published ahead of the 2019 Lok Sabha elections. The report said northern states may gain more than 32 seats while southern states may lose 24 seats.

Justice Puttaswamy, who moved SC against Aadhaar scheme, dies at 98

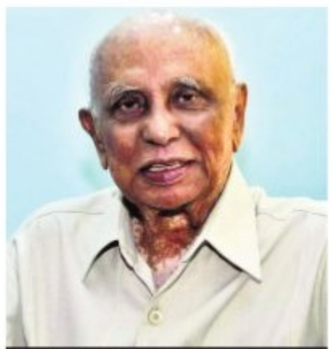
EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@New Delhi/Bengaluru

FORMER Judge of Karnataka High Court Justice KS Puttaswamy, who challenged the Aadhaar scheme before the Supreme Court in 2012 on grounds of the Right to Privacy, passed away at his residence in the city on Monday. He was 98.

He was the lead petitioner to challenge the Aadhaar scheme on the grounds that it was introduced by the Union government without enacting a law and was only based on an executive order. He filed a writ petition before the Supreme Court, challenging the constitutional validity of it.

However, in 2015, the top court, as a part of his petition against Aadhaar, decided to consider the larger issue of whether citizens have a fundamental right to privacy under the Constitution.

In a landmark judgment in 2018, a Constitution bench of the apex court refused to strike down the scheme though, but upheld the Aadhaar scheme with certain riders and then the government enacted a law to govern the scheme.



FEB 8, 1926 – OCT 28, 2024

Justice Puttaswamy was born on February 8, 1926. He studied at the Maharaja's College in Mysuru and Government Law College in Bengaluru. Enrolling as an advocate in 1952, he was appointed as an Additional Government Advocate in the Karnataka High Court. On November 28, 1977, he was appointed as Judge of the Karnataka High Court and retired in 1986.

He was appointed as the first vice-chairman of the Central Administrative Tribunal on September 1, 1986. Justice Puttaswamy also served as Chairman of the Andhra Pradesh Administrative Tribunal and Chairman of the Andhra Pradesh Commission for Backward Classes, Hyderabad.

Right to privacy

The right to privacy is a legal principle that protects people from unwarranted invasions of their personal lives by governments, corporations, or individuals. It includes the right to be free from: Unwarranted publicity, Unwarranted appropriation of one's personality, Publicizing one's private affairs without a legitimate public concern, and Wrongful intrusion into one's private activities.

Ancient city of Dholavira in poor state, says PMO

PARVEZ SULTAN @New Delhi

After the Prime Minister's Office (PMO) flagged the poor state of preservation and lack of tourist amenities at the ancient city of Dholavira, the southern centre of the Harappan Civilization, the Archeological Survey of India (ASI) has issued directions to the officials concerned to "devote" more time to speed up "site activities" and work out a detailed action plan for conservation and resume excavation at historic urban settlements; a world heritage site located in the Rann of Kutch, Gujarat.

The functioning of Dholavira Unit, excavation and other activities at the site was discussed in a meeting held earlier this month with the senior official of the PMO in which the director general of the ASI was informed that the place is not a 'good status of preservation' and it also lacks proper management, maintenance and tourist amenities.

According to the official, the survey was also informed about discontinuation of excavation, which has great potential for research, there at Dholavira.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi in Amreli, Gujarat, on Monday | PTI

Following the intervention and concerns conveyed by the PMO, the ASI was also of the view that the pace of excavation and preservation activities at the ancient settlement dating to 3rd to mid-2nd millennium BCE need to be accelerated and efforts required to set up a site museum at the earliest as tourist footfall has also been increasing.

It is the 6th largest of more than 1,000 Harappan sites discovered so far, which was occupied for over 1,500 years.

Dholavira demonstrates its multifaceted achievements in terms of urban planning, construction techniques, water management, social governance manufacturing, trading, and belief system.

Harappan City was inscribed on UNESCO's World Heritage list in 2021.

A year later, the ministry of culture notified the ancient quarry sites at Dholavira as an archaeological site and remains of national importance. Quarries, spreading over 41 hectare, are about 3-4 kilometers from Dholavira citadel.

According to the archeologists, stones extracted from these mines were used to build Dholavira citadel and architectural members were also carved here. Taking cognisance of the concerns, two officials, including a Conservation Architect (CA), have been shifted to Dholavira.

"The Superintending Archaeologist in-charge of Rajkot Circle (sub office of ASI in Gujarat) is further advised to devote more time to the Dholavira site to accelerate activities at the World Heritage Site.

He may submit a detailed action plan in this regard within 15 days for perusal of D-G," read an order on transfer of the officers.

STOLEN PHONES RETURNED

Police on Monday returned lost mobile phones to more than 100 people in Indore after recovering them from various parts of the country during the investigation, an official said.

Uncle too made same mistake: Ajit

Deputy chief minister Fadnavis' PS makes it to BJP's third list, 4 party MLAs denied ticket

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

WHILE filing his nomination from the Baramati constituency in Maharashtra for the Assembly polls, Deputy CM Ajit Pawar on Monday said that in the recent Lok Sabha elections, he made a mistake by fielding his spouse against his sister Supriya Sule. "But the same mistake should not have been made by Sharad Pawar by asking Yugendra Pawar to file his papers against him.

Yugendra is the grandnephew of NCP chief Sharad Pawar and son of Sriniwas Pawar and nephew of deputy chief minister Ajit Pawar.

Baramati will witness a high-voltage Pawar-versus-Pawar drama like in the Lok Sabha elections. Ajit Pawar's spouse Sunetra Pawar lost the election against Supriya by over 1,50,000 votes. In the Baramati segment, Supriya got the lead of over 58,000 votes, in a constituency from where Ajit Pawar had been elected MLA seven times.

Ajit Pawar got emotional while speaking at Baramati. He said it is true that the family should not be divided. "I have accepted my mistake several times. People who are sitting here also voted for Supriya because it was said in Baramati that they would vote for Supriya for Lok Sabha while voting for me in the assembly. So, people of Baramati should stand with the people who are doing development, not politics," said the NCP leader.

He said his mother also told Yugendra Pawar and other family members, that they should not field Yugendra against him, but no one listened to her. It was Sharad Pawar who prompted Yungendra to contest the elections.

Meanwhile, the personal assistant of Deputy CM Devendra Fadnavis has found a place in the BJP's third list of 24 candidates for the Maharashtra assembly elections. Defectors, too, are given an opportunity to contest the election.

The party has so far declared 148 candidates which include 99 in the first list, 22 in the second and 25 in the latest list. It also handed out four seats that are allocated to smaller allies. That means the BJP and its smaller allies have 152 constituencies out of the total 288.

The third list reveals that the party has denied the ticket to three sitting MLAs -- Sandeep Durve from Arni, Vikas Khumbhare from Nagpur-Central, and Dadarao Keche from the Aarvi seat.

Sumit Wankhede, the personal assistant of deputy chief minister Devendra Fadnavis, has been fielded from Aarvi. Wankedhe is the second PA of Devendra Fadnavis who has been fielded. Earlier Abhimannu Pawar was fielded from Latur and was elected in the 2019 assembly and re-nominated in this election.

Wankedhe was a mechanical engineer who also did a political strategy course at MIT in Pune. He joined the fellowship service when Fadnavis was leader of the Oppositions. Both are seen as good friends. BJP has forced its allies, the Shinde-led Shiv Sena and Ajit Pawar-led NCP, to accommodate its leaders.

Raut warns Congress over Solapur South seat

Shiv Sena (UBT) leader Sanjay Raut on Monday warned Congress about fielding a candidate for the Solapur South assembly seat, for which his party has already announced a nominee. Speaking to the media, Raut said such actions could provoke a similar response from their side and create "problems" for the opposition MVA.

BJP's Hembrom to take on Hemant from Barhet seat

MUKESH RANJAN @ Ranchi

THE BJP on Monday released its second list of candidates, fielding Gamaliel Hembrom from Barhet Assembly seat against Chief Minister Hemant Soren. The list also includes Vikas Mahto, who will be challenging JMM's Mathura Mahto in Tundi constituency.

With this, the BJP completes its quota of 68 candidates allotted to it during the seat-sharing in NDA. The BJP has already announced its first list of candidates for 66 Assembly seats.

As per the consensus reached earlier, the AJSU Party will contest 10 seats, JD (U) two, and LJP one, while the BJP will contest 68 of the 81 seats in the Assembly.

Gamaliel Hembrom, a former assistant teacher, left his job five years ago to enter politics. Known for his passion for sports, Hembrom has gained local recognition for organising football tournaments. His wife is also a public representative.

In the 2019 poll, he contested against Hemant Soren in Barheit on AJSU ticket, but was placed fourth. In 2019, the BJP had fielded Simon Malto against Hemant Soren, who also lost by a margin of more than 25,000 votes.

Barhet is one of the high-profile seats in Jharkhand, especially because CM Soren himself is contesting from the seat. Barhet has been a JMM stronghold since 1990 when Hemlal Murmu won for the first time from there. He represented the seat four times, first in 1990, then in 1995, then again in 2000 and in 2009. Hemant Soren won from the seat for the first time in 2014 and then in 2019.

Meanwhile, state BJP president Babulal Marandi filed his nomination for Dhanwar Assembly constituency in Giridih. Marandi, who is the MLA from the seat, initially won the constituency in 2019 on a JVM (P) ticket. After the 2019 elections, he merged his party with the BJP, though the merger faced challenges in the Speaker's court when two of JVM (P)'s seven MLAs defected to join the Congress, claiming they represented the original party.

Govt to conduct security audit of all infra projects

After the October 24 militant attack on an under-construction site at Gagangir in central Kashmir's Ganderbal district left seven persons including five migrant workers dead, the government would be conducting the security audit of all infrastructure projects in the Union Territory. While chairing a security review meeting, Lt Governor Manoj Sinha has directed police to conduct a security audit of all infrastructure projects in J&K. Police has been directed to ensure stringent security measures and tighten the security grid around key infrastructure projects and construction camps for the safety of workers.

Omar takes statehood restoration plea to Delhi

Jammu and Kashmir Chief Minister Omar Abdullah met Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Home Minister Amit Shah, Defence Minister Rajnath Singh and Minister of Road Transport and Highways Nitin Gadkari in New Delhi last week with the one point agenda of restoration of statehood. After J&K cabinet, which comprises CM, Deputy Chief Minister and four ministers, passed a resolution on restoration of statehood, Omar in his meetings with PM, HM, DM and Transport minister handed over draft of the resolution to them and sought early restoration of statehood to J&K.

NC MLA detained at airport, later released

The ruling National Conference MLA Bashir Ahmed Veeri was briefly detained at Srinagar airport on Sunday after pistol rounds were found in his luggage. Veeri, who was travelling from an Indigo flight to Jammu, was detained after two live rounds of pistol were found from his baggage after detection by X-ray scan at Srinagar airport. As police officers began questioning him in the airport, NC MLA told officials that he had got a licence for the pistol and two rounds of pistol were mistakenly placed in the luggage. "I had been using the bag in which I keep the pistol at home. I had taken the pistol out from the bag but in haste, two pistol rounds remained," Veeri said.

Social media post on ordnance factory blast in Jabalpur under lens

ANURAAG SINGH @ Bhopal

A cryptic social media post on the micro blogging platform X has kept the cops in Jabalpur district of Madhya Pradesh as well as the state police's counter intelligence wing on their toes. The post made from the handle 'Pakistan Zindabad@ lovepakarmies' read, "I speak It was a pleasure to visit Khamaria Ordnance factory Jabalpur Madhya Pradesh. Thank you for the hospitality. I have spoken the wisdom is yours."

With the post made on October 22 night, also containing the video of the Ordnance Factory Khamaria in Jabalpur district, which was hit by a powerful blast 12 hours before the social media post, the Jabalpur district police as well as the counter intelligence wing of the state police has started probing the post.

According to the additional SP of Jabalpur police, Samar Verma, the police has taken note of the post and is already working in the matter.

"We're trying to find out the origin of the post, the place or country from where it has been made. Also, our teams are working to figure out the relevance and actual meaning of the message in the post. Though it's the ordnance factory management only which is investigating the October 22 explosion, from what we know till now no external involvement has been found in that incident," Verma said in Jabalpur on Monday.

In Bhopal, meanwhile, a senior officer at the state police headquarters told this newspaper that there is nothing to suggest anything explicit in the concerned social media post, still the state police's counter intelligence wing is looking into the matter."

Earlier on October 22 morning, a powerful explosion had happened at one of the units of the Ordnance Factory Khamaria (which is around 20 km from Jabalpur district headquarters), killing two workers identified as Alexander Toppo and Randhir Kumar and injuring more than 12 other workers.

Hand grenade found outside Manipur college

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Guwahati

THE police recovered a hand grenade along with a "warning note" from the entrance of GP Women's College in the Manipur capital Imphal on Monday morning.

Through the note, the miscreants demanded that the authorities honour the "rights of proletarian students' free education movement". The college is less than 100 meters away from the Raj Bhawan. The personnel of the police and bomb disposal squad rushed to the site after being alerted. The grenade, spotted by passers-by, was later defused at the Lamphel Game Village area in the Imphal West district.

The incident comes a day after a group of unidentified armed men placed a hand grenade at the residence of the proprietor of a private hospital in Thoubal district and threatened his family members at gunpoint. The incident had triggered outrage with the locals blocking National Highway 102 at Khangabok Bazar and staging a sit-in stir. Meanwhile, the police in a statement said three insurgents were arrested for extorting the public.

Ambush on ambulance, Army dog & terrorist killed in Jammu's Akhnoor

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

A terrorist was killed, and two others were trapped in an ongoing encounter with security forces in the Sunderbani sector of Akhnoor, near the Line of Control (LoC) in Jammu district of J&K on Monday. The confrontation began in the morning after the terrorists attacked an Army ambulance that was a part of a convoy in the area, however, no injuries or damage was reported.

National Security Guard (NSG) commandos and the Army's elite para commandos are assisting the troops on the ground in the anti-terrorist operations.

According to Jammu-based defence spokesman, the terrorists fired upon a convoy near Asan area in Sunderbani sector of Akhnoor, near the LoC in Jammu district, in the morning. The Army ambulance, which was part of the convoy, was hit by a dozen bullets fired by the terrorists.

While the glasspane of the ambulance was damaged in the terrorist firing, all the personnel travelling in the ambulance escaped unhurt. No loss of life or injuries have been reported in the incident.

A defence spokesman stated that swift response by the troops successfully thwarted the militant attack. Sources said some school students alerted the Army men about the militants' presence. The Army's swift retaliation forced the terrorists to flee.

Immediately after the terrorist attack, the Army and police launched a joint search operation in the Battal, Khour area and its adjoining areas of Sunderbani in Akhnoor to track down the terrorists, who were said to be three in number and heavily armed.

During the search operation, a gunfight ensued and a militant has been killed so far, the defence spokesman said.

He said the body of the slain terrorist has been recovered. "A weapon has also been recovered from his possession". The area was rattled with heavy gunfire and loud explosions throughout the day. A security official said it is being suspected that the three militants had recently infiltrated and an investigation has been launched to ascertain their entry point and whether the group comprised three terrorists only or it was a bigger group that had split after infiltration.

As the gunfire prolonged, the NSG commandos and army's elite para commandos joined the anti-terrorist operation.

C'garh cabinet approves new industrial development plan, focuses on investment

EJAZ KAISER @ Raipur

THE Vishnu Deo Sai cabinet, on Monday, approved the draft and proposal of Chhattisgarh's new Industrial Development Policy 2024-29.

"The new policy to come into effect from November 1, 2024, and will continue till March 31, 2030, carries the provisions to facilitate the inspiration of Amrit-Kaal Chhattisgarh Vision@2047. The policy has offered various stipulations to establish a new benchmark in the industrial development of the state", a government spokesperson said after a council of ministers' meet chaired by the chief minister.

The new Industrial Policy incorporates the Centre's amendment of the year 2020, which revised the classification of micro, small, medium and large-scale enterprises under the MSME Development Act, 2006, based on their scale, investment limit, nature, and turnover. Special provisions have been laid down in the policy to encourage the industrial growth and balanced development of the state.

Chhattisgarh cabinet meeting chaired by CM Vishnu Deo Sai on Monday | EXPRESS

To fulfill the goal of the new Industrial Policy, the investment incentives will be provided for setting up of new enterprises, expansion/diversification, replacement, and related works in the state.

To accomplish the objective of all-round industrial development across the state, the development blocks of every district will be divided into three sectors, and the quantum of industrial investment incentives to be provided will also to be ascertained.

Separate terms have been earmarked for core sector products like steel, cement, thermal power, and aluminium. Keeping in view the requirements of the state, they have been divided into thrust and general industries. Provisions have been made to extend attractive industrial investment impetus for pharmaceutical, textile, food processing among others.

Factionalism surfaces among RG Kar junior docs

SULAGNA SENGUPTA @ Kolkata

NEARLY three months after the brutal rape-murder of a 31-year-old trainee doctor at RG Kar Hospital in the heart of Kolkata, the protesting junior doctors face factionalism. A group of junior doctors has formed a new association, blaming the established West Bengal Junior Doctors Front (WBJDF) for deviating from the central demand for justice for the trainee doctor.

The new body, the West Bengal Junior Doctors Association (WBJDA), has alleged that many of its supporters were expelled in the name of "threat culture" at RG Kar Hospital. Over 50 medics were suspended on October 5 over an allegation that they were part of a "threat culture" at the state-run medical college. On October 22, the Calcutta High Court stayed their suspension.

The other faction has accused the WBJDA of being supporters of the ruling TMC. Rejecting the allegation, the new organization has questioned the sources of income of the WBJDF and demanded its balancesheet.

'Threat culture': Over 50 medics suspended on Oct 5

Over 50 medics were suspended on October 5 over an allegation that they were part of a "threat culture" at the state-run medical college. On October 22, the Calcutta High Court stayed their suspension. The other faction has accused the WBJDA of being supporters of the ruling TMC

However, both organisations have demanded speedy trial in the case.

"We started the movement for justice, not for work cessation. False allegations of threat culture have been used against us, resulting in a flawed inquiry and unjust expulsion," Dr Srish Chowdhury, an intern at RG Kar, said. He said those raising complaints against them are also part of the inquiry committee, which compromises the panel's fairness.

"We are calling out to everyone against whom these fake allegations are levelled. This is terror culture, not threat culture," said Dr Chowdhury.

"We would meet the chief minister to inform her about it. They (WBJDF) are creating a state of lawlessness in state-run healthcare establishments in the name of 'justice for RG Kar'. We were the first who had launched a protest movement in the heinous case. We didn't stop work but organised protests," said junior doctor Shrish Chakraborty of WBJDA.

The new outfit has called for an impartial investigation, preferably led by a former high court judge, to ensure accountability. They argued that "politically-motivated" inquiries should not determine the fate of junior doctors.

"Since day one, the students' protest was about justice. Now, it has turned into a proxy war on how Swasthya Bhawan can be controlled. People have moved away from the protest," said Dr Sourav Kar, a junior doctor.

"We wanted change, but some ultra aggressive people hijacked the movement," he added. On the other hand, the WBJDF members alleged that an unhealthy environment triggered by 'threat culture' prevailed in all medical colleges. The newly formed organisation of the junior doctors is the perpetrators of this culture, the front members have said. "We have already submitted evidence of threat culture sponsored by these perpetrators to the authorities concerned," said WBJDF's Dr Aniket Mahato.

Crude, racist insults mar mega Trump rally

Speakers at the Madison Square Garden called Kamala Harris the devil and the Antichrist

NEW YORK

DONALD Trump hosted a rally featuring crude and racist insults at New York's Madison Square Garden, turning what his campaign had dubbed as the event where he would deliver his closing message into an illustration of what turns off his critics.

With just over a week before Election Day, speakers at the rally on Sunday night labeled Puerto Rico a "floating island of garbage," called Democratic Vice President Kamala Harris "the devil," and said the woman vying to become the first woman and Black woman president had begun her career as a prostitute.

"I don't know if you guys know this, but there's literally a floating island of garbage in the middle of the ocean right now. I think it's called Puerto Rico," said Tony Hinchcliffe, a stand-up comic whose set also included lewd and racist comments about Latinos, Jews and Black people, all key constituencies in the election just nine days away.

His joke was immediately criticised by Harris' campaign as it competes with Trump to win over Puerto Rican communities in Pennsylvania and other swing states. Puerto Rican music superstar Bad Bunny backed Harris shortly after Hinchcliffe's appearance.

The normally pugnacious Trump campaign took the rare step of distancing itself from Hinchcliffe. "This joke does not reflect the views of President Trump or the campaign," senior adviser Danielle Alvarez said in a statement.

But other speakers also made incendiary comments. Trump's childhood friend David Rem referred to Harris as "the Antichrist" and "the devil." Businessman Grant Cardone told the crowd that Harris "and her pimp handlers will destroy our country."

The marquee event reflected the former president's tone throughout his third White House campaign. Though he refrained from doing so on Sunday, Trump often tears into Harris in offensive and personal terms himself, questioning in recent weeks her mental stability and her intelligence as well as calling her "lazy," long a racist trope used against Black people.

The event was a surreal spectacle that included former professional wrestler Hulk Hogan, TV psychologist Dr Phil McGraw, former Fox News host Tucker Carlson, politicians including House Speaker Mike Johnson and Reps Byron Donalds and Elise Stefanik.

Just eight days to go, 2024 campaign in final stretch

Will Harris' closing message harness Democrats' anxiety?

It would be an understatement to describe Democrats as anxious as Election Day looms. But there was a deliberate effort by Harris' senior team over the weekend to project optimism to help temper the fear. Harris will try to alleviate Democratic anxiety further on Tuesday when she delivers her "closing argument" at the Ellipse, the same spot near the White House where Trump spoke on Jan 6, 2021 shortly before his supporters attacked the Capitol

Can Trump stay on message?

And with eight days to go until Election Day, history suggests Trump is virtually guaranteed to say or do something else controversial in the final stretch. The only question is whether it will break through. If there's one thing we know, it's that Trump cannot help himself. He's been using authoritarian-style rhetoric in recent days to suggest that his Democratic opponents, whom he calls "the enemy within", are more dangerous to the nation than the threat posed by Russia and China. Democrats will be looking for something to exploit

Where will they go?

Harris and Trump are aggressively competing in just seven swing states that will ultimately decide the election. They are the three so-called "Blue Wall" states — Michigan, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin — in addition to Arizona, Georgia, Nevada and North Carolina

Slowly, Indian Americans shifting to vote for Trump

WASHINGTON

IN a warning sign for the Democrats, Indian-Americans' attachment to the party is declining in the US while the share of Republican identifiers held steady.

A new survey, the "2024 Indian-American Attitudes," conducted by the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace in partnership with the research and analytics firm YouGov, says Indian-Americans remain solidly behind the Democratic Party but a modest uptick is seen in support for Republican candidates and former president Donald Trump.

The analysis is based on a nationally representative online survey of 714 Indian-American citizens between September 18 and October 15. The survey has an overall margin of error of +/- 3.7%.

According to the survey, 61% of registered Indian-American voter respondents plan to vote for Harris while 32% intend to vote for Trump.

It said a modest increase in the share of respondents willing to vote for Trump had been seen since 2020.

On the other hand, 67% of Indian-American women intend to vote for Harris while 53% of men say they plan to vote for Harris.

Twenty-two per cent of women intend to vote for Trump while 39% of men plan to cast their ballots for him. This gender gap appears starkest with younger voters, according to the survey.

Tehran to respond firmly, effectively, says Iran minister

TEHRAN/JERUSALEM

IRANIAN foreign ministry spokesman Esmaeil Baghaei said on Monday that Tehran would "respond firmly and effectively" to deadly Israeli strikes on military sites over the weekend.

"We are using all available means to respond firmly and effectively to the aggression of the Zionist regime," Baghaei told a news conference.

"The nature of our response will depend on the nature of the attack."

Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu said that Iran seeks to develop a "stockpile" of nuclear bombs aimed at destroying Israel.

"Iran is striving to develop a stockpile of nuclear bombs to destroy us, equipped with long-range missiles, intercontinental missiles that Iran is trying to develop," Netanyahu said in a speech to lawmakers as Israel's parliament began its winter session. "Iran could threaten the entire world at any point."

Separately, the top commander of Iran's Revolutionary Guards has warned Israel it would face "bitter consequences" after its attack on Iranian military sites, local media said. Guards chief Hossein Salami, quoted by Tasnim news agency, said Israel had "failed to achieve its ominous goals" with its air raids on Saturday.

Salami said the Israeli attack was a sign of "miscalculation and helplessness" as Israel battles Tehran-aligned militants in Gaza and Lebanon.

"Its bitter consequences will be unimaginable" for Israel, Salami warned according to Tasnim.

On Saturday, Israel conducted air strikes on military sites in Iran in response to Tehran's October 1 attack on Israel, itself retaliation for the killing of Iran-backed militant leaders and a Revolutionary Guards commander.

Esmaeil Baghaei

At least four soldiers were killed in the strikes, according to the military, and Iranian media reported Monday that a civilian was also killed in the attack.

"The martyr Allahverdi Rahimpour, a civilian who was killed near Tehran during the recent attack by the Zionist regime, has been buried," the Fars news agency reported.

Tasnim news agency also reported the death, saying Rahimpour worked as "a (security) guard in a company" and lived in the city of Nassimshahr southwest of Tehran.

Authorities had not previously reported civilian deaths in the strikes.

ASIA MATTERS

GIG WORKERS TO GET SOCIAL SECURITY

The proposed Gig Workers' Economy Bill set to be tabled this December in Malaysia will push for 24-hour social security coverage, said Dy PM Ahmad Zahid Hamidi. The Bill will be tabled after the Budget 2025 is passed, The Star reported. Zahid said that the 24-hour social security coverage was requested by the gig workers themselves. "This is because they are currently between the ages of 19 and 34 years old. As they grow older, they fear not being able to get necessary medical treatment, which would be unfortunate," he said, adding gig workers should receive benefits as others.

PRABOWO WANTS CAPITAL READY BY 2029

New leader Prabowo Subianto wants to complete key government and parliamentary buildings in the country's $32 billion new capital city in the next four years, CNA reported. "He even hopes that the inauguration of the next Indonesia president and vice president in 2029 could be done in Nusantara," Forestry Minister Raja Juli Antoni said. There should be no questions of Prabowo's commitment to continue his predecessor's legacy project, as he has already guaranteed he would complete it, he added. The construction of the project started in 2022.

MIDAIR SCARE AS WINDSHIELD CRACKS

A Singapore Airlines flight that was headed to Tokyo on Oct 27 was diverted to Taipei, after a windshield cracked mid-flight, The Straits Times reported. There were 249 passengers and 17 crew members on board the Boeing 777-300ER. The flight had departed from Changi Airport at 11.16 pm on Oct 27, on Oct 28, according to FlightRadar24.

Amid constitutional hurdle, pressure building on B'desh president to quit

DHAKA

BANGLADESH's President Mohammed Shahabuddin faced growing pressure on Monday to quit from leaders of the revolution that toppled autocratic ex-prime minister Sheikh Hasina in August, who argue he was her appointee. Shahabuddin, 74, widely known as "Chuppu", was elected by parliament in 2023 by Hasina's now ousted Awami League, but while the post is largely ceremonial, his potential removal from the role has sparked fears of a constitutional vacuum.

"Any decision regarding the removal of the president will be based on political consensus," Shafiqul Alam, press advisor to the interim government that replaced Hasina, said on Monday.

The interim government is led by Nobel Peace Prize winner Muhammad Yunus as its "chief adviser".

Government spokeswoman Syeda Rizwana Hasan, a minister in Yunus's cabinet, said there is "an ongoing discussion regarding the removal" of Shahabuddin.

"It must be considered whether a government formed after a revolution should retain a president who was selected by a fascist government," Hasan told reporters on Sunday. "The demand for his removal stems from claims that he does not align with the spirit of the movement." But those pushing for his removal face constitutional hurdles. To impeach the president requires a two-thirds vote by parliament, with the speaker then assuming the post. Parliament however was suspended following Hasina's ouster, meaning the process to remove a president is open to question.

Hasina's residence to become museum

The palace of Sheikh Hasina will become a museum to honour the revolution that ousted her. "The museum should preserve memories of her misrule and the people's anger when they removed her from power," Muhammad Yunus said

Sagar Hospitals Inspires Over 800 at YOGATHON 2024

Uniting Health, Healing, and Hope on World Stroke Day

Celebrating World Stroke Day with a mission to raise awareness and promote healthier lifestyles, Sagar Hospitals hosted YOGATHON 2024, drawing more than 800 participants to Shalini Ground in Jayanagar. The event featured yoga, meditation, and laughter therapy sessions, all centred around this year's theme, "Harnessing the Emotional Power of Sport to be #GreaterThan Stroke." Attendees included stroke survivors, medical experts, and community members, each advocating for proactive health measures and the importance of stroke prevention.

The event was inaugurated by the Chief Guest, Ramamurthy, MLA of the Jayanagar Assembly Constituency, who highlighted the significance of preventive health measures and encouraged attendees to adopt lifestyles that could mitigate the risk of stroke. "Events like YOGATHON are more than gatherings—they are movements, propelling a commitment to personal health and collective awareness," he remarked, reinforcing the power of community-driven health initiatives.

One of the most moving segments of the event was the series of testimonials shared by stroke survivors. Their stories of resilience and recovery highlighted the impact of timely diagnosis, emotional strength, and a supportive community in overcoming stroke's challenges. Each story served as a powerful reminder of the need for heightened awareness, early detection, and the crucial role of emotional and mental support systems.

The medical team from Sagar Hospitals, including renowned Chief Neurosurgeon Dr. Arun L. Naik, neurologists Dr. Madhusudhan BK, Dr. Saravanan, and Dr. Veerendra Kumar, provided valuable insights on stroke prevention and recovery. Dr. Naik emphasised the need for rapid response in the face of stroke symptoms, stating, "Every second counts during a stroke, and early detection can be the difference between recovery and disability. Prevention through lifestyle modification and quick action are essential to reducing stroke's impact."

The event's highlight was an inspiring performance by the Indian Yogasana Team, showcasing the power and discipline of yoga. Fresh from their gold-medal triumphs at the Asia Pacific Yoga Championship in Sri Lanka, the team's display was a visual testament to the strength that physical and mental discipline can foster, reminding participants of the health benefits yoga offers not only to the body but also to the mind.

Ishiqa Multani, President, Sagar Hospitals shared her thoughts on the success of YOGATHON 2024: "Today, we have witnessed an inspiring blend of physical vitality, emotional strength, and community spirit. At Sagar Hospitals, we believe in empowering people to take charge of their health, and events like YOGATHON provide that platform. By embracing practices such as yoga and mindfulness, we can significantly reduce our risks and stand together against the challenges of stroke. Let this day be a reminder that we are all capable of being #GreaterThan," she said.

In addition to yoga and laughter therapy, attendees participated in meditation sessions led by wellness experts, fostering a sense of inner calm and balance. These sessions, designed to reduce stress and enhance focus, underscored the importance of mental health in preventing lifestyle-related conditions like stroke.

YOGATHON 2024 is a part of Sagar Hospitals' ongoing commitment to promoting health awareness and empowering individuals to lead healthier lives. By focusing on preventative care, Sagar Hospitals hopes to reduce the incidence of stroke and other lifestyle diseases, supporting the community with education, expertise, and the resources needed to take proactive health measures.

As the event concluded, participants left with a renewed commitment to personal health and the resolve to be #GreaterThan the obstacles they face.

Swiggy sets IPO price at ₹390; issue to open after Nov 6

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

FOODTECH company Swiggy has set the price for its upcoming initial public offering (IPO) at ₹390 at the upper end of the band, sources told this newspaper.

Also, the IPO issue might open for subscription after November 6. The SoftBank-backed company's valuation will stand at $11.3 billion at the upper end of the price band.

Last week, TNIE reported that the food delivery platform, which was earlier targeting a $15 billion valuation, planned to cut its valuation target to $12.5 billion- $13.5 billion due to market volatility.

In September, the company filed its updated DRHP (draft red herring prospectus) and according to that, the proposed IPO will comprise a fresh issue of equity shares valued at Rs 3,750 crore and the sale of 18.52 crore existing shareholders' equity shares and this will be through an offer-for-sale.

Kotak Mahindra Capital Company, Jefferies India Private Ltd, Avendus Capital and Citigroup Global Markets India are the book-running lead managers.

Earlier this month, US asset manager Invesco raised Swiggy's valuation to about $13.3 billion. In its disclosure with the US SEC (Securities Exchange Commission), Invesco's Developing Markets Fund said it valued 28,844 shares at $237 million as of July 2024. Invesco holds a 2% stake in the company.

Valuation at $11.3 bn

Valuation will stand at $11.3 bn at the upper end of price band.Last week, TNIE reported the the company, earlier targeting a $15 bn valuation, planned to cut valuation target to $12.5 bn-$13.5 bn

In 2021, its competitor Zomato launched its IPO at ₹9,375 crore. Swiggy's annual revenue as on March 31, 2024, stood at ₹11,600 crore. In July this year, it announced the fifth ESOP (employee stock ownership plan) liquidity programme.

This is the fifth liquidity event for Swiggy since 2018, and the third consecutive event after July 2022 and 2023. So far, the company has cumulatively enabled over ₹1,000 crore of ESOPs liquidity over the five events, benefitting over 3,200 employees, the company said.

Last week, the food delivery platform introduced 'Swiggy Seal', an initiative aimed at raising hygiene and food quality standards across lakhs of restaurant partners on its platform. Currently live in Pune, Swiggy said it will be gradually scaled up over November, eventually covering over 650 cities.

Airtel Q2 net profit rises 168% to ₹3,593 cr

Company improved average revenue per user by 15% to ₹233 in the reporting quarter compared to ₹203 in Q2FY24

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

BHARTI AIRTEL on Monday reported a 168% rise in its consolidated net profit to ₹3,593 crore for the quarter ending September 2024, up from ₹1,341 crore in the year-ago period.

The company also improved its average revenue per user (ARPU) by 15% to ₹233 in Q2FY25, compared to ₹203 in Q2FY24. Its consolidated revenues for the quarter were ₹41,473 crore, growing by 12.0% year-on-year and 7.7% quarter-on-quarter, driven by strong momentum in India and growth in constant currency in Africa.

Airtel's mobile revenue grew 18.5% YoY, led by tariff hike by the company in July 2024. The telco's consolidated earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation, and amortisation (EBITDA) during the quarter were ₹22,021 crore, while the EBITDA margin was 53.1%. However, The company's customer base in India decreased by 2 million in the latest quarter, ending at 407 million as of September-end. "The flow thru of tariff repair is in-line with our expectation on ARPU increase and SIM consolidation. We reported industry leading ARPU of ₹233. Our focus on winning quality customers and driving premiumisation has helped us add 4.2 million smartphone customers. We continue to expand our Wifi coverage with FWA offerings to over 2,000 cities. We continue to invest in our digital businesses to diversify portfolio strength and drive long term growth," said Gopal Vittal, managing director of Bharti Airtel.

Airtel's India revenues for the quarter were ₹31,561 crore, up by 16.9% YoY. The company also added a net of 0.8 million postpaid subscribers in the quarter, reaching a customer base of 24.7 million. The telco rolled out nearly 5,000 towers and 15,200 mobile broadband stations during the quarter to enhance connectivity and provide a superior network experience. Additionally, Airtel launched India's first network-based, AI-powered spam detection solution to combat the country's spam issues. The company added 583,000 FWA customers. Airtel prepaid ₹8,465 crore in September 2024 for deferred liabilities pertaining to spectrum acquired in 2016, which were at an interest rate of 9.3%.

Shashwat Sharma to take over as MD, CEO from Jan 1, 2026

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

Bharti Airtel on Monday announced that Shashwat Sharma will take over as managing director and chief executive officer from January 1, 2026. Currently serving as chief operating officer, Shashwat will succeed Gopal Vittal, who will move into the role of executive vice-Chairman. In his new position, Shashwat will oversee the entire end-to-end consumer business, with Gopal providing mentorship during this transition.

"I am pleased with the succession and transition plan of leadership at Airtel and there could not have been a better time for Airtel to unveil the new arrangement where change and continuity will go hand in hand," said Sunil Bharti Mittal, Chairman of Bharti Airtel.

As part of a structured succession process, Vittal, in addition to his role as MD, will be appointed vice-Chairman. In this position, he will continue to lead the India business while taking on broader telecom responsibilities across the group. Vittal will join the Board of Airtel Africa Plc as Bharti's nominee director to provide strategic guidance. Additionally, he will be responsible for driving group synergies in key areas such as network strategy, digital technology, procurement, and talent management. Vittal, who has been MD and CEO for the last twelve years, has successfully built a strong portfolio of businesses across mobile, B2B, home broadband, DTH, and digital services. Despite intensely competitive mobile sector, Airtel has seen its revenue market share growing from 30% to 40%.

PNB posts 145% growth in net profit because of sharp fall in provisioning

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

STATE-owned Punjab National Bank (PNB) on Monday reported stellar second quarter numbers with net profit of the bank increasing 145% year-on-year to ₹4,303 crore due to a sharp fall in provisioning.

In the same quarter the previous year, the bank had reported ₹1,756 crore in profit after tax.

Provisioning (other than taxes) during the quarter fell 92% year-on-year to ₹288 crore compared to ₹3,444 crore in the corresponding period last year. Net Interest Income (NII) of the bank increased to ₹10,517 crore during the quarter from ₹9,923 crore a year ago, showing an improvement of 5.99% on YoY basis. Global net interest margin (NIM) stands 2.92% in Q2FY25, down from 3.11% a year ago.

Operating profit rose YoY by 10.25% to ₹6,853 crore in Q2 as against ₹6,216 crore a year ago. On asset quality front, the bank showed a noticeable improvement as gross non-performing assets (GNPAs) declined by 248 bps on YoY basis to 4.48% as of September 24 from 6.96% a year ago. Accordingly, net NPAs also witnessed also dropped 101 bps to 0.46%.

Provision coverage ratio improved by 476 bps to 96.67% as on September 2024 as against 91.91% as on September 2023. The bank's business grew by 12% to ₹25.20 lakh crore as on September 2024 from ₹22.51 lakh crore as on September 2023.

Deposits registered a growth of 11.33% YoY to ₹14.60 crore as against ₹13.09 crore a year ago. Advances increased by 12.76% to ₹10.62 crore.

Meanwhile, Financial Services Institutions Bureau (FSIB), the body that recommends selection of directors in PSU banks, recommended Ashok Chandra for the position of Managing Director (MD) and CEO of Punjab National Bank (PNB). He is currently the Executive Director of Canara Bank. He will replace Atul Kumar Goel who retires in December.

IOC net profit declines 98% on fall in refining and fuel margin

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

STATE-owned Indian Oil Corporation Ltd (IOC) on Monday reported a 98.6% fall in net profit in the September quarter, as refinery margins declined and marketing margins shrunk.

It reported a standalone net profit of ₹180.01 crore Q2FY25 as against a profit of ₹12,967.32 crore a year back, as per a stock exchange filing. The profit fell sequentially, when compared to an earning of ₹2,643.18 crore in the April-June period. While refinery margins fell, it also booked under-recoveries on selling domestic cooking gas LPG at government-controlled cost, which was lower than the cost. For the six months ended September 30, IOC had an under-recovery on LPG of ₹8,870.11 crore. It earned $4.08 on turning crude oil into fuels like petrol and diesel as against gross refining margin of $13.12 per barrel last year.

Pre-tax earnings from downstream fuel retailing businesses fell to ₹10.03 crore from ₹17,7555.95 crore in July-September 2023. Revenue from operations dropped to ₹1.95 lakh crore in the July-September from ₹2.02 lakh crore a year back as international oil prices softened. The company and other state-owned fuel retailers -- Hindustan Petroleum Corporation (HPCL) and Bharat Petroleum Corporation (BPCL) – had last year made extraordinary gains from holding petrol and diesel prices despite a drop in cost.

Fintech Slice finishes merger with NESFB

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

BENGALURU-based fintech start-up Slice on Monday announced that it completed its merger with North East Small Finance Bank (NESFB), effective from October 27. This merger unifies the operations, assets, and brand identities of both entities into a single, integrated banking institution.

In August, the consumer payments and lending company received approval from the National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT) for its merger with NESFB. The NCLT, Guwahati bench, had sanctioned the Scheme of Arrangement and Amalgamation involving Garagepreneurs Internet Private Limited, Quadrillion Finance Private Limited, among others. Rajan Bajaj, Founder & CEO, slice and Executive Director of the merged entity, said, "For over a year, the teams at slice and NESFB have worked tirelessly to make this merger a reality."

By harnessing advanced technology and digital solutions, the bank is set to drive regional growth with a clear objective to enhance financial inclusion, stimulate economic development in the Northeast, and expand its reach across India.

Mkt ends 5-day losing streak on global cues, FIIs remain net sellers

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

DOMESTIC equity market snapped a five-day losing streak on Monday with the benchmarks- BSE Sensex and NSE Nifty50 – surging over 1% each in intraday deals on the back of favourable global cues. At close, the Sensex was up 602 points at 80,005, marking a 0.76% gain, Nifty surged by 158 points, ending at 24,339, a gain of 0.65%.

The fresh gain came after the benchmarks fell over 2% each last week.The broader market advanced with the Nifty Midcap 100 index gaining 0.83%, after crashing 6% last week. Market capitalisation of all listed firms on the BSE surged by ₹4.56 lakh crore to ₹441.54 lakh crore.

Experts advised investors to remain alert as Monday's gain doesn't suggest a reversal from the month-long weakness. Foreign portfolio investors (FPIs) continued with their selling spree, offloading shares worth ₹3,228 crore (on a net basis) on Monday. "Sensex rose above 80,000 on Monday after a five-day fall as oversold conditions, lack of FPI selling, sense of relief post Israel's retaliatory strike against Iran - all led to an improvement in sentiments," said Deepak Jasani, head of retail research at HDFC Securities.

A dip in global oil prices and a rally in other global markets supported India's rally on Monday. Jasani added sustenance of this up move over next few days will be crucial to lead to the return of buying interest from all classes of investors.

Ajit Mishra, SVP of research at Religare Broking, said participants should not read much into a single-day rebound and await a decisive close above 24,500 to signal recovery, as a failure to do so could lead to a resumption of decline. He added, "Traders are advised to maintain a cautious approach, keeping positions balanced on both sides, with a focus on large-cap and mid-cap leaders."

CCPA to probe Ola Electric's plaint resolution claim

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ chennai

THE Department of Consumer Affairs is reviewing Ola Electric's claim of resolving 99% of over 10,000 complaints regarding its e-scooters, following a show-cause notice issued by the Central Consumer Protection Authority (CCPA) earlier this month. As per sources, the department is investigating the company's assertion and plans to reach out to customers to verify their experiences.

Earlier, Ola Electric said it has a strong system for addressing customer complaints. "Of the 10,644 complaints received via the CCPA, 99.1% were resolved to the complete satisfaction of the customer, as per Ola Electric's robust redressal mechanism," the company claimed in a statement to the exchanges.

The CCPA issued its show-cause notice to Ola Electric on October 7, accusing the company of violating consumer rights, misleading advertising, and unfair trade practices. It had informed that over 10,000 consumer complaints were logged with the National Consumer Helpline, most of which were related to the company's after-sales service. Shortly after, the Ministry of Heavy Industries (MHI) involved the Automotive Research Association of India (ARAI) to verify if Ola Electric is meeting its warranty commitments and maintaining adequate service centers.

The Ministry of Transport has also sought an explanation from Ola Electric regarding the quality concerns raised by customers about its e-scooters.

Last week, the CCPA, under Chief Commissioner Nidhi Khare, expressed concerns about Ola Electric's refund policy, which currently offers future ride coupons instead of cash refunds. The CCPA has instructed Ola to make its refund process more consumer-friendly.

Mkt share, stock prices fall in last two months

Ola Electric's after-sales service has faced ongoing criticism on social media, which has affected its market share and stock prices. The company's shares have dropped from ₹157.4 to ₹77 in past two months. Brokerage HSBC recently revised its target price for Ola Electric, lowering it from ₹140 to ₹110. HSBC noted the company is undergoing several initiatives to improve service quality.

Revolting EC members postpone IOA SGM again

The revolting Executive Council (EC) members of the Indian Olympic Association (IOA) has decided to postpone the Special General Meeting (SGM) they had called on November 10 due to "unforeseen circumstances", just days after a separate notice of postponement of the event on the instructions of embattled president PT Usha.

ROHIT'S BATTING UNDER SCANNER

Experienced opener's struggle with the bat is one of the reasons behind India's dismal show this season so far

GOMESH S @ Chennai

IN the middle of February last year, India captain Rohit Sharma reached a point where he had never been before as a Test opener. For the first time since taking up the role, Rohit had come closest to that magical figure — Test average of 50.

He started his Test career with a bang, but only a year later, it had gone downhill. From averaging 56.87 in early 2014 as a middle-order batter, his number had gone down to 39.62 just before he was asked to open in the longest format in 2019. Since then, he has been on an upward curve. And his hundred against Australia in Nagpur last year had taken his Test average to 47.2.

At that stage, Rohit was the all-format captain leading India to the World Test Championship final. He had been one of the best Test openers for about three years. From the time he started opening till the end of 2022, no opener, who had more than 1000 runs, had a better average than he did (55.42). He was competing with the likes of Usman Khawaja, David Warner and Abdullah Shafique. During this time, India had won a Test series in Australia, came close to winning one in England and had lost just one match at home. India went on to win the series against Australia at home and qualify for the WTC final, but Rohit as an opener hasn't been the same since. Since that hundred in Nagpur against Australia, he averages 32.8 in 31 innings with three hundreds and four fifties — one hundred and two fifties came against a depleted West Indies attack. To put it into context, his current opening partner Yashasvi Jaiswal averages close to 60 in the period (59.65). It is not just about the averages and arbitrary numbers. In this time, India have lost four Tests at home — two to New Zealand, one each against Australia and England. The results, although not necessarily attributed to Rohit's performance, his sub-par performance have affected India massively at the top. Now, it might not necessarily be a slump, but Rohit has become more inconsistent than he used to be in the format. He has crossed the 40-run mark only eight times in 31 innings with the occasional fifty and hundred to show. Last year, when India went into the Rajkot Test against England after levelling the series 1-1 in Visakhapatnam, there was a similar concern. Rohit scored a century there, and followed up with another in Dharamsala. His Test average had slipped below 45 during that series, but by the time India won the series 4-1, it had gone back to 45.46. It seemed like an indication of turning the tide. However, that has not been the case.

Rohit as Test opener

Period	M	R	Avg	100s
Oct 2019-Dec 2022	18	1552	55.42	5
2023	8	545	41.92	2
2024*	10	559	31.05	2

*- Till India Vs NZ Test in Pune

Since the start of this home season in Chennai, Rohit has gotten into double digits only twice in eight innings. His two centuries, in a series where his opening partner scored over 700 runs, looked good and did not affect India as much. But with Jaiswal not piling runs as he did against England — only comparatively as the youngster has been India's best batter this season with four fifties — Rohit's lack of form has come at a cost as India's home streak came to an end with the defeat against New Zealand in the second Test in Pune. This is not to attribute the loss to Rohit's batting. But it has played a part. At a time when India desperately needed their captain to step up, especially after the loss against New Zealand in Bengaluru, Rohit faltered. And the dismissals tell a story. Yes, he might have been unlucky in the second innings of the Bengaluru Test, but he seemed to have become susceptible against seamers early on. In four of the eight innings this season, he has gotten out to a pacer with a new ball.

As much as some of them have been really good deliveries, it also makes one wonder whether his transformation as an intent merchant in white-ball over the last two years has affected, at least ever so slightly, the way he bats against the new ball. The discipline he showed as an opener in England three years ago — arguably the best he has batted in Tests — doesn't seem to be there. Although one can say that there seems to be a paradigm shift in the way teams approach Test batting, for reasons of skill and mindset, it has affected Rohit, who at 37, is in his November as a cricketer. That his Test average has gone down to 42.83 in 18 months sums it up.

That said, Rohit, the Test batter and captain, is yet to face his biggest challenge — five Tests in Australia where India will be looking to win the series for the third time and a WTC qualification spot. To imprint his legacy in the longest format, as he has in limited-overs, he needs to be at his best with the bat.

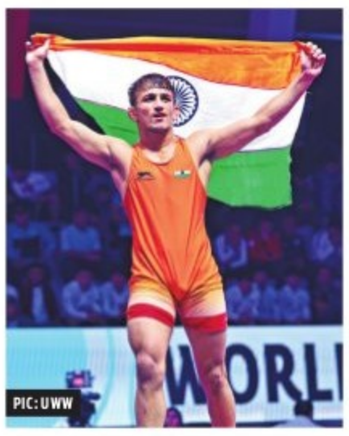
Fitness routine to top of podium: Chirag's journey

FIROZ MIRZA @ Chennai

AROUND seven years ago, Dinesh Chhikara felt his 11-year-old son, Chirag, had been putting on weight. He spoke to his brother, Virender Chhikara, about the matter and the duo decided to enroll Chirag in an akhada (wrestling academy) at their village, Juan in Sonepat district (Haryana). Despite the state being a powerhouse of wrestling, no one in the Chhikara household had pursued the sport before Chirag.

Understandably so, Chirag was reluctant to join the academy and had to be taken to the venue forcibly by his father or uncle. That continued for more than a week but once the boy made friends there, the academy eventually became his second home. A journey that started to make Chirag healthy and fit witnessed a moment to remember for a lifetime on Sunday when the now 18-year-old freestyle wrestler became only the second male from the country to clinch a gold medal at the U23 World Championships in Tirana, Albania. "It all started to make Chirag fit as we felt he was gaining weight," Virender told this daily.

Seeded No 1 in the 57kg weight category, Chirag overcame No 2 Japanese wrestler Gakuto Ozawa in 1/8 before registering a win by technical superiority against Iunus Iavbatirov (individual neutral athlete) in the quarterfinal. He then defeated Allan Oralbek of Kazakhstan in the next round and won the final by a 4-3 margin against Abdymalik Karachov of Kyrgyzstan.



PIC: UWW

Chirag's father works as an electrician in a sugar mill while his uncle runs a handloom business. The sport demands money as wrestlers need a proper diet and other resources to succeed. The family decided to chip in, with the biggest contribution coming from Chirag's grandfather Dayanand Chhikara, a retired school teacher. "My father loves Chirag a lot and has been spending his pension largely on the boy. Be it his diet or other demands, my father has said specifically that he will take care of that," added Virender.

The final was a closely-contested affair as the family members were on the edge of their seats while watching it on the UWW app on Sunday night. "His opponent took a 2-0 lead initially but he fought back. He again conceded a point but then gained two points. That proved decisive as he won 4-3. We were all nervous. Tears started rolling down my father's cheeks once Chirag won the bout," said Virender.

Given Vinesh Phogat's disqualification at the Paris Olympics for being 100 grams overweight ahead of the 50kg final, Dayanand was nervous before Chirag's last bout. "Chirag called in the morning ahead of the final and the first question my father asked was about the weigh-in. He was worried because Vinesh was disqualified after failing to give weight at the Paris Games." After training in his village, Chirag was shifted to the Indian Navy's Raipur Akhada in Sonepat three years ago. Since then, he has been training under coach Kuldeep Singh. "It's an Olympic weight category and Chirag is the future of Indian wrestling. He won 44kg bronze at the U15 Asian Championship in 2018. Three years ago, he won bronze at the Cadets World Championships. This gold will augur well for his future," coach Kuldeep told this daily. Before Chirag, Aman Sehrawat, who won 57kg bronze in Paris, had bagged the gold in the 2022 edition. Apart from the duo, woman wrestler Reetika Hooda (76kg) had also captured the top prize at the event last year. Apart from Chirag's gold, the country's men freestyle wrestlers also won three bronze in the tournament as India finished fourth in the team rankings behind Iran, Japan and Azerbaijan.

Mayank slams century to propel Karnataka against hosts Bihar

ENS/AGENCIES @ Chennai

MAYANK Agarwal came up with his 18th first-class century (105) while Manish Pandey made a brisk 56 off 55 balls to help Karnataka overcome a difficult start to take first innings lead over hosts Bihar in their Ranji Trophy match in Patna. In reply to Bihar's 143, Karnataka ended the day for 287/7. Inclement weather meant Karnataka played only three overs on Day 1 while the play for the next day was washed out. Rain affected Karnataka's previous two matches but they are set to gain at least three points by virtue of their first innings lead.

SELECT SCORES

Group A: In Vadodara: Odisha 193 & 165 in 34 ovs (Kartik Biswal 53 n.o; Ninad Rathva 6/60) lost to Baroda 456 (Krunal Pandya 119; Govinda Poddar 5/131); Group B: In Visakhapatnam: Andhra 344 in 92.4 ovs vs Himachal Pradesh 478/9 in 150 ovs (Ankit Kalsi 53, Akash Vasisht 52, Rishi Dhawan 195; KV Sasikanth 4/101, PVSN Raju 3/125); In Hyderabad: Hyderabad 536/8 decl in 163 ovs vs Puducherry 153 in 49.2 ovs (Ajay Rohera 27; G Anikethreddy 6/56) & 171/2 in 47 ovs (V Ganga Sridhar 61, Ajay Rohera 69).; Group C: In Kolkata: Kerala 267/7 in 102 ovs (Jalaj Saxena 84, Salman Nizar 64 batting; Ishan Porel 5/83) vs Bengal; In Patna: Bihar 143 vs Karnataka 287/7 in 51 ovs (Mayank Agarwal 105, Manish Pandey 56; Himanshu Singh 4/51).; Group D: In Delhi: Assam 330 & 44/3 (Harshit Rana 1/18) vs Delhi 454 in 122.5 ovs (Sumit Mathur 112, Siddhanth Sharma 89, Harshit Rana 59; Rahul Singh 4/108); In Coimbatore: Chhattisgarh 500 vs Tamil Nadu 259 in 77.2 ovs (C Andre Siddarth 55, M Shahrukh Khan 50; Shubham Agarwal 5/62, Jivesh Butte 3/66)) (f/o) 71/1 in 16 ovs.

Kerala fight back vs Bengal

KOLKATA: In Kolkata, Bengal pacer Ishan Porel took 5/83 to secure his fifth five-wicket haul in first-class cricket, reducing Kerala to 83/6 at one point of time. However, Kerala's middle-order, led by seasoned campaigner Jalaj Saxena, staged a resilient recovery to reach 267/7 at the Jadavpur Salt Lake Campus ground. Saxena's fighting 84 off 162 balls, alongside a determined 64 from Salman Nizar, added 140 for the seventh wicket, frustrating Bengal's bowlers. Nizar, who faced 205 deliveries, was accompanied by wicketkeeper-batter Mohammed Azharuddeen (30 off 48 balls) at close of play.

Hyderabad in control

HYDERABAD: G Anikethreddy scalped a five-wicket haul as hosts Hyderabad wrapped Puducherry's first innings lead for 153 on Day 3 of their match. The visitors were then asked to follow on and their batters fared better in the second essay as they were 171/2 when the bails were drawn. Hyderabad are set to earn at least three points from the match.

HP secure 1st innings lead

VISAKHAPATNAM: Riding on captain Rishi Dhawan's century (195 off 318 balls), Himachal Pradesh secured a first innings lead against Andhra in their match. They were 478/9 in 150 overs at stumps. Resuming at 198/4, Himachal were in danger of conceding first innings lead but Dhawan's hundred took them past Andhra's first innings total of 344.

Baroda crush Odisha

VADODARA: Krunal Pandya (119) slammed a century while left-arm spinner Ninad Rathva claimed six wickets to help hosts Baroda crush Odisha by an innings and 98 runs in their. After bowling out the visitors for 193 in their first essay, Baroda posted 456 to take a big lead thanks to a quick ton by Pandya. They then bundled out Odisha for 165 to register a bonus win (seven points).

Sumit ton puts Delhi on top

NEW DELHI: Ignored in the first two games, all-rounder Sumit Mathur showed his prowess with a patient century to put Delhi in sight of an outright victory against Assam on the third day of their match against Assam. Starting the day at 214 for 6 in reply to Assam's 330, left-handed Mathur (112 off 230 balls) first added 99 for the seventh wicket with India's new pace bowling find Harshit Rana (59 off 78 balls) and then another 166 for the eighth wicket with Siddhanth Sharma (89 off 128 balls) to take the first innings score to 454.

TN concede big lead

COIMBATORE: Leggie Shubham Agarwal spun a web around hosts Tamil Nadu, claiming 5/62 to bowl them out for 259. The visitors then asked TN to follow-on and the hosts were 71/1 in their second essay at stumps with skipper N Jagadeesan and Andre Siddarth unbeaten on 28 and 36, respectively.

Series at stake in Ahmedabad

Hosts India will face New Zealand in the final ODI to bag the series and a few points in the ODI Championship. A look at key talking points...

CHAMPIONSHIP POINTS ON LINE

India are currently placed second in the ODI Championship behind Australia and England. Even though India have already qualified for the ODI World Cup, this is their opportunity to win the third edition of the championship as they are the side with most of their matches still left in the cycle. This match could be important from that point of view.

NZ'S PLACE IS STILL NOT SECURED

Even with 20 points on the board, New Zealand would need this win in order to make sure that they directly qualify for the WC next year. So far, India, Australia, England and South Africa have confirmed their qualification as there is a three-way competition for the last two remaining spots between NZ, West Indies and Sri Lanka.

CONCERNS OVER INDIAN OPENERS

Despite starting aggressively, Shafali Verma has not been able to convert her starts into big scores in the format, while after one of her best performances on home soil against South Africa, Smriti Mandhana has struggled with the form recently. The team management would want good returns from the duo in the final outing before a brief international break.

TEN HAG SHOWN EXIT DOOR BY UNITED

Manchester United sacked manager Erik ten Hag following the club's lacklustre start to the season. A look...

Writing was on the wall

The writing was on the wall. Ten Hag was under immense pressure having presided over United's worst start to an English top-flight campaign since the 1989/90 season. Before entering his third season with the English giants, the Dutch manager was expected to bring some form of stability after a challenging period last season, where United finished eighth. Despite calls of his dismissal, a FA Cup final, his second domestic trophy with the club, win over Manchester City in May had kept him in the job. Despite some new signings this season, the former Ajax boss just couldn't find solutions to last season's problems.

LACKING STYLE OF PLAY: After an impressive third in his debut season, injuries to some of the key players and the lack of a meaningful impact from big money signings and Ten Hag's failure to implement a clear style of play had led to a number of embarrassing results last season.

Final nail in coffin

Against West Ham on Sunday, the team had plenty of chances to be out of sight by half-time but they just couldn't manage to convert their chances. United dropped to a lowly 14th in the table after suffering their fourth defeat on the day and have won only one of their last eight games in all competitions.

RUUD TO TAKE OVER FOR NOW

Former striker Ruud van Nistelrooy, who returned to the club as Ten Hag's assistant in July, will now serve as interim manager before the club decides on a permanent replacement.

We are grateful to Erik for everything he has done during his time with us and wish him well for the future

Sainz achieves wish with one more win for Ferrari

AGENCIES @ Mexico City

CARLOS Sainz said he wanted to claim another victory with Ferrari before leaving for Williams next year and on Sunday he achieved that aim with a masterful triumph in the Mexico City Grand Prix.

It brought him a second win this year, his career fourth and Ferrari's third win in Mexico and first since Alain Prost in 1990. Sainz's win was also the first by a Spanish-speaking driver at the Mexican event — and on a special day for him and his family. "Everyone knew I wanted it, to get one more win for Ferrari, and to leave the team on a high — I really wanted it," said Sainz, 30, who learned he will be replaced by seven-time champion Lewis Hamilton in January. "I have had to keep my motivation high all this year and it has been in difficult circumstances," he said. "So, this had to happen and here in Mexico, a Spanish-speaking country and in front of my family and all my best friends. "I knew my mum was here and that meant I had to do something extra and this is just great."

Mexico GP Results (Top 6): 1. C Sainz (ESP/Ferrari) 1hr 40min 55.800s; 2. L Norris (GBR/McLaren-Mercedes) + 4.705; 3. C Leclerc (MON/Ferrari) + 34.387, 4. L Hamilton (GBR/Mercedes) + 44.780; 5. G Russell (GBR/Mercedes) +48.536; 6. M Verstappen (NED/Red Bull) +59.558. Drivers' standings (Top 6): 1. M Verstappen (NED) 362 pts; 2. L Norris (GBR) 315; 3. C Leclerc (MON) 291; 4. O Piastri (AUS) 251; 5. C Sainz (ESP) 240; 6. L Hamilton (GBR) 189. Constructors: 1. McLaren-Mercedes 566 pts; 2. Ferrari 537; 3. Red Bull 512; 4. Mercedes 366; 5. Aston Martin-Mercedes 86; 6. Haas 46.

Sainz's win was Ferrari's second in two races after Charles Leclerc triumphed in the United States Grand Prix, proving the team are on the way up under new team boss Fred Vasseur with a competitive car.

McLaren's Lando Norris finished second in Sunday's incident-filled race as Red Bull's series leader Max Verstappen was handed two 10-second penalties on his way to sixth.

The stewards took a dim view of Verstappen's aggressive driving, the Red Bull driver twice forcing his title rival Norris off the track.

Rocket pen launch

The Reynolds Rocket pen crashed the market in 1945 at $12.5. All 10,000 pieces sold out, making it the first commercially successful ballpoint pen

WORKING MECHANICS

A small ball — made from brass, steel or tungsten carbide — at the pointed end of the reservoir rolls viscous ink onto paper. As you write, the ball rotates and the ink dries immediately

OTHER INVENTIONS

Laszlo Biro, a Hungarian newspaper editor, invented his version of the ballpoint pen. He worked with his brother to develop his idea in 1938

LEGAL BATTLE

In May 1945, Eversharp Company with Eberhard-Faber acquired exclusive rights to Biro Pens. They sued Reynolds for copying the design

Bengalureans are letting their imaginations get the better of them this Halloween with out-of-the-box costumes, makeup and decor

Hello-ween!

MAHIMA NAGARAJU

WHAT is Halloween without the dramatic joy of transforming your house into a haunted mansion with hidden horrors at every turn...and yourself into its undead residents? With Halloween right around the corner, Bengalureans are doing just that with spooky decor, glamorous makeup and eye-catching nail looks to get themselves party-ready.

Spooky Glam

Although fake blood, vampire teeth and crazy witch hair are always popular with kids, youngsters planning to attend parties are looking for looks that are more glamorous than gore. Rashida Pavthiwala, a city-based makeup artist, says, "Halloween has always been a very fashionable event, it's not just makeup but a whole look that people want, they're focussing on characterisation. It's no longer about just looking scary with oozing blood, stitches and bandages. For example, people will pick up characters like Maleficent, Alice, and Shrek but even with the green base, they want a full glam makeup look. They want weird and wacky more than horrifying and deadly."

With Deepavali falling on the same day as Halloween this year, some are combining the aesthetics of both festivals. As Prthika Kumaran, creative director of Comiiiu makeup studio explains, "People are trying to go for a traditional gothic style look for a lot of events and parties. People usually think of westernised looks when they think of gothic but now there are ghostly Indian brides, giving a creepy twist to tradition."

Nail-ing It

While spiders, ghosts and witches hats are classic nail designs that continue to be popular, Bengalureans have taken a liking to the cat-eye effect this year – a nail technique that uses a magnet to create a dazzling sheen and swirling patterns. Nail technician Maude Abraham says, "Basically, it gives you depth in the polish so it makes your spooky nail art like spider webs quite interesting." The nail ring trend, sported by celebrities like Jaqueline Fernandez, Ananya Pandey and Kriti Sanon, has now made its way to Halloween costumes. "People are also using gold nail rings that you wear just above your knuckle to create length and really stand out as an element in their costume," adds Abraham.

Immersive Decor

Apart from classic decorations like spider webs, skeletons and pumpkins, motion-activated gizmos, including a zombie that crawls across the floor, an Annabel model that rocks back and forth on a toy horse and a skeleton that laughs when someone gets too close, are some decorations that are drawing eyes this year. Jugal Vira, owner of Party Hunterz, a store on Infantry Road, finds that several of his customers are setting up elaborate, themed haunted houses at home. "One of our customers whose home we decorated had a zombie theme; so we used cut hands, legs, and lots of blood around with the crawling zombie. Bengalureans' interest in Halloween decorations has grown bigger and bigger, people love to be spooked," he adds.

Understanding the Nuances of a BRAIN STROKE

Dr Sunil Valentine Furtado

The brain is a wonderful and intricately designed organ with a multitude of functions transcending mindfulness and awareness. When this organ, nourished by an intricate blood vessel network has a sudden blocked blood vessel, an acute ischemic stroke develops. Vast numbers of neurons, synapses, and nerve fibers are irretrievably lost every moment till treatment occurs. The other type of stroke — caused by a bleed in the brain — hemorrhagic stroke, is as devastating. Here, blood gushes out of ruptured blood vessels, just like a burst dam, causing pressure damage to millions of neurons in the vicinity of bleed.

Understanding Stroke

Stroke, simply put, is a 'brain attack', reflexively drawing an analogy to its counterpart – heart attack. Ischemic stroke occurs when a region of the brain has been deprived of vital oxygen and nutrient supply. The adult human brain is made up of 130 billion neurons. Every 30 seconds of a sustained large artery block kills 1 million neurons and destroys 6 kilometers of carefully crafted nerve networks. The consequences of untreated stroke include varying degrees of hand and/or leg paralysis, speech impairment, memory loss, altered consciousness, and behavioral disturbances. Strokes affecting the brainstem which regulates aspects like breathing and heart functions, could lead to coma and death.

The critical time to treat these strokes is within the first 6 hours of onset. Strokes reaching a hospital between 6 to 18 hours after, mandate advanced CT or MRI tests to help quantify the parts of the brain that can be salvaged by treatment. A paradigm shift occurred in the management of ischemic strokes in large blood vessels after a series of world stroke trials came out in the year 2015. These trials showed that treatment outcomes with stent devices or special suction tubes to pull out the clot, also referred to as mechanical thrombectomy, were far superior to conventional injection of the clot-dissolving agent into a vein. This study confidently characterized two eras in stroke management in large arteries supplying the brain: one before and one after the study. Since then, mechanical thrombectomy for ischemic stroke has been used in cases up to 24 hours of stroke onset in appropriate situations, and also in further distal and smaller arteries with advances in investigation and medical device technologies.

The treatment of hemorrhagic stroke depends on the volume of the bleed, its location, and in case of a special bleed like sub-arachnoid bleeds – the need for aneurysm closure with either of the procedures: clipping or coiling of the aneurysm.

The Global Scenario Vs Indian Scenario

Globally, one in four individuals can suffer a stroke. Every 3 seconds, someone, somewhere, is afflicted by a stroke. It means over 12 million people suffer from stroke each year; of these 6.5 million will die. As per the WHO, stroke was the third leading cause of death worldwide in 2021.

In the West, special multidisciplinary teams are set up to manage strokes with active involvement of trained emergency doctors, stroke neurologists, neurosurgeons and radiologists. Hospitals brought down the time from patient arrival at hospital to initiation of treatment to 1 hour. From a mere 30-50% chance of clot dissolution with drugs, a success rate of more than 80% for clot removal has been accepted with mechanical thrombectomy. There is an all-round cheer with treatment outcomes with dramatic improvements, reduced hospital stay, cost of rehabilitation, and ICU care. These individuals can actively contribute to their families at large and to society and lead a productive life thus reducing the emotional and financial burden on family.

In India, stroke affects 145 individuals per 1 lakh population each year with a stroke every 20 seconds. Without treatment, 30% of these individuals unfortunately succumb to stroke and 30% are left with severe deficits. Only 1% of these patients receive the standard of care. It points to a lack of awareness of symptoms of stroke among the general population, inadequate infrastructure in primary hospitals to evaluate, and non-referral of such cases to comprehensive stroke treatment centers. Emergency Ambulance Systems for patient transfer is crucial. Certification of hospitals as comprehensive stroke treatment centers is vital. The cost-benefit of treating an individual who is restored to baseline or close to it potentially outweighs the costs of nursing an untreated person for a prolonged time with rehabilitation.

An increased life expectancy in India and a growing middle class have ushered in lifestyle and age-related risk factors like heart disease, diabetes, hypertension, high cholesterol, smoking, alcohol consumption, and a sedentary lifestyle. Managing such risk factors, active physical activity, cessation of smoking, and moderation in alcohol consumption can reduce the risk of stroke in 90% of cases.

The World Stroke Association uses a theme each year to raise awareness about stroke. This year the World Stroke Campaign will be leveraging the emotional power of sport and physical activity to raise awareness about stroke and encourage action on stroke prevention and rehabilitation.

Strokes can occur in anyone at any time and any location. Acute stroke is a highly treatable neuro-emergency.

ARE WE Deepavali READY?

Deepavali is an emotion for most of us. The festival of lights is probably the only occasion where the entire family comes together to celebrate. While the approach has changed over the years, there are a few repetitions with regard to getting your homes ready for the festivities, here are a few things you can do this season

Deep clean, declutter, and donate

1 The constant ritual for every household during Deepavali has been to deep clean. Alongside this, decluttering – a fresher approach has been adapted to reduce clutter from our spaces by discarding anything that hasn't been used in a while. Clothes, utensils, stationery – literally anything that you no longer use can be donated.

First impressions are like pizza!

2 Your entrance is what sets the tone for what one feels while entering your space, make sure it's inviting. Clean, well-lit, minimal ones work the best! Add a simple toran (door hanging), and some light either by lining diyas or using fairy lights and you will be all set to leave an impression.

Fairy it up

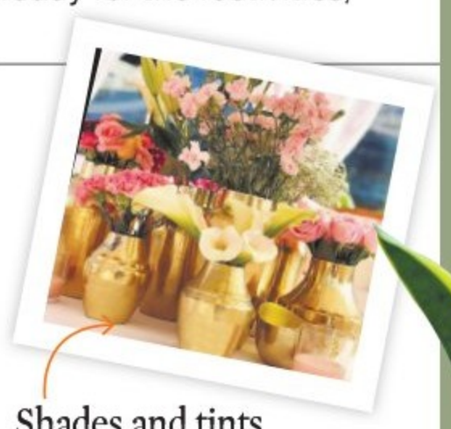
3 Lighting is one of the most important aspects of this festival. From earthy diyas to fairy lights, there is a lot that can change just by getting the lighting right. Bring back the fairy lights! Use them in glass vases, around bookshelves and as string lights lighting up the outdoors and dark corridors. Use it on your table around the décor, accentuating the elements. Let's get lit up this Deepavali!

Fabric play

4 India is a country rich in heritage and we rightfully take pride in it. Uplift your soft furnishings, old saris, Bandhini prints, motifs, and laces as curtain ties, bring it all out and get your DIY cap on! Use them as table runners, placemats, planter covers and also wall décor. Give your puja room an uplift too by creating a canopy with these fabrics, and add a string of pearls or mirrors to complete the look.

What's cooking?

5 Kitchens are a really important part of this festival because food is the best form of celebration known to mankind. Make sure your kitchens are clean and organised, use this as an excuse to get rid of all the plastic bags inside bags and the takeout containers. Bring out the special crockery and show it off! Tablescape the scrumptious food in your favourite cutlery, juxtapose candles, décor and vases with fresh flowers to add to the festivities. A pinch of metal accents is always a good idea!



Shades and tints

6 Gone are the days when only reds and yellows dominated. Today, pastel décor and minimal homes are in vogue. All in all, your space should feel welcoming and light to the eye. Go easy on loud shades and use the occasion to add some more greenery, the more plants, the merrier you can make them with fairy lights. From being excited about new outfits and crackers to realising happiness isn't materialistic, we all have evolved.

Deepavali might mean different things to people but the constants are love, family, togetherness and food! Though the preparation seems tedious, don't sweat the small stuff because it's home and that's where you are loved the most. Hug it out and cheer for a sparkling year ahead!

DESIGN STORY

MOTHER-IN-LAW'S TONGUE: IT'S EASIER TO HANDLE THAN YOU THINK!

SNAKE Plant, also known as Dracaena trifasciata or Mother-in-law's Tongue, is one of the easiest plants to care for, and is great for homes and offices alike. Beyond its low-maintenance nature, it's also celebrated for its air-purifying abilities, bringing both beauty and health benefits to any space.

Recently, I've noticed its popularity skyrocketing, with prices to match – both online and offline. If you're put off by the premium cost, here's a tip: ask a friend for a single leaf! This plant propagates easily (more on that below). And to give it the perfect environment and avoid common care mistakes here's what you should do:

- Light and watering needs: Snake plants thrive in low to medium light, making them perfect for dim corners or spaces with limited sunlight. That said, avoid total darkness — no plant enjoys that! Overwatering is a common problem, as their roots are prone to rot. The key is to water sparingly, letting the soil dry out between waterings. Depending on your climate, watering every two to four weeks is usually enough.
- Soil and fertiliser: A succulent-type soil mix works best for snake plants, as it provides good drainage and helps prevent soggy roots. These plants aren't heavy feeders and only need a little fertiliser once or twice a year, preferably during their growing season (spring to summer). A diluted liquid fertiliser is ideal.
- Temperature considerations: They prefer moderate temperatures, flourishing between 15-30°C. They're great for indoor environments but should be kept away from cold drafts.
- Common issues: If you notice yellowing or soggy leaves, it's likely due to overwatering. Make sure your pot has proper drainage, and cut back on watering to prevent root rot.
- Propagation tips: Simply cut a healthy leaf into 5 to 6 inch segments and plant the lower end 3 to 4 cm deep in soil. After a week, water the soil, and continue watering just once a month. New roots should begin to form in one-two months.
- Super tip: This plant's tolerance for low light makes it a great option for dark hallways or even bathrooms, where other plants might struggle. Its adaptability and resilience make it a must-have for any indoor garden!

Naturalist Pradip Krishen's home in Delhi shows the whimsical possibilities of wood with each piece contributing a story

In praise of wood

PRACHI SATRAWAL

WOOD is a material of endless possibility — rich in texture, versatile in use, and deeply embedded in human history. Pradip Krishen, an environmentalist, author of Trees of Delhi: A Field Guide and Jungle Trees of Central India, former filmmaker, and restoration expert, captures this perfectly: "Wood is absolutely fascinating and delicious to work with. I deal a lot with living trees and dead trees. I find that quite a nice combination, as both are completely different things."

Sitting in his Delhi home, surrounded by furniture crafted from lesser-known woods, Krishen reflects on his journey that began over three decades ago. "My interest in wood started in 1992-95 when I was building a house in Pachmarhi. At that time, teak was ₹2,000 per cubic foot, and I couldn't afford to buy all the structural wood, doors, and windows in teak," he recounts.

Woody journey

He began searching for alternatives. "I asked a forester friend if it was possible to buy wood from forest depots. You need to know what you're looking for," he explains. He turned to Dietrich Brandis' book, written by India's first Inspector General of Forests, which included details on the trees of the region. "I made a list of about 12 to 13 species that should have been available in the forest depot." After navigating the auction system, Krishen managed to acquire 10 of the 12 species he had listed. "The average cost came to ₹140 per cubic foot. Then I learned how to season woods. We had really wonderful results with the grain. This was 30 years ago," he says. Krishen has since developed an expertise in using "waste woods", ones that would otherwise be discarded or used for firewood. "It's nice to know these were otherwise going to get burnt or made into crates. In a sense, we were using waste wood."

Experience and experimentation improved his knowledge of wood, often challenging conventional choices. "When carpenters hear that you're not using teak, they either get worried or snobbish, saying, 'There's no teak, what's the point then?'" he says with a laugh. But his resolve remained firm, and he found joy in exploring the possibilities offered by unconventional woods. "The stuff the wood is made of is called lignin, and nobody has figured out how lignin came into being, how this magical material grows naturally and lasts and lasts," he muses, describing how different woods have their own secrets. "Some have reverse grain, so when you're carving, you have to discover how it behaves."

In 1998, after his mother passed away, Krishen moved to Delhi and aimed to transform the house to reflect who he is rather than who his parents were. As part of this renovation, "at great cost, effort, and time, we stripped all the structural timber that was painted green back to reveal the natural grains of the wood," he recalls. He discovered a local furniture market in Delhi, where timber from trees that did not belong to municipal authorities used to go to be auctioned. "A man named Wadhawan conducted the auctions, they used to happen in Punjabi. I didn't attend the auctions; I would go afterwards and ask Wadhawan, 'Bauji, dikhao kya bacha hai,' meaning 'Show me what's left.' He would introduce me to new types of wood. I bought ten kinds, all considered waste or firewood, which were quite affordable. Next to him was a workshop where we could process the wood and watch the beautiful grains emerge."

Whims of wood

For Krishen, wood has always been more than just a material — it's a canvas for creativity and discovery. He speaks of jhand, a wood marked by dark lines that intrigued him. "Wadhawanji told me, 'Aye, tussi mat lo, iska to aata ban jayega,' meaning 'don't take it as it would become powdered.' But I bought it anyway. It has lasted till now."

Nearly everything in his home reflects this hands-on approach, from the dining table to the sideboards, all bearing the marks of overlooked woods.

His house is a testament to the whimsical possibilities of wood, where each piece contributes its own story. His experiments with wood extend from practical structures to playful aesthetics. "My wooden rainbows," he says, referring to door panels made from ten types of wood, offer a vivid example of this. The variety of wood types creates a dynamic visual narrative throughout his home. Love for unusual wood extends into smaller details. For instance, a towel bar at his sink, carved by him from guava wood, retains some of the bark. "Guava is lovely to carve; it's homogeneous," he says. His cabinetry displays bakain wood, a fast-growing yet short-lived tree.

His attention to detail includes scalloped edges, carved legs, and curving furniture tops that interact with light. "I like the way scalloped things work with light; it gives you different lighting textures from varied angles," he explains. For large poster frames, he used wood from the chudail papdi tree, and for a kitchen door's push panel, he carved cyrus wood into what he affectionately calls "Gandhiji's ear." Even the house's main entrance reflects his adventurous spirit. The wooden planks forming the gate are arranged in flame-like shapes, with a pseudo-tree-like pillar adding a fantastical touch. These whimsical elements, combined with wood's natural textures, create an atmosphere where each piece tells its own story.

My interest in wood started in 1992-95 when I was building a house in Pachmarhi

Pradip Krishen, environmentalist

Collaborative craft

Krishen's relationship with wood is deeply collaborative. He credits much of his success to the craftsmen who helped him bring his ideas to life. "Ram Kishore was my main carpenter," he shares. "We worked together for three years, and nearly every piece in this house was made by us. He set up a workshop in my driveway, and for those three years, I was constantly designing, and he was producing – it was great fun."

Even today, he occasionally makes things for friends. "I did a lot of stuff for Arundhati Roy's flat with Ram Kishore. He was from Bihar, and although he had worked with other woods, this was his first time with many of the types we used. Some, like imli, are very hard and contain a lot of silica, which blunts tools quickly. Carpenters often get upset because they have to sharpen their tools repeatedly, but Ram Kishore adapted fast," he says.

Krishen's attention to detail doesn't stop at design; it extends into the final touches, especially polishing. He developed a technique through experimentation with penetrating oils when living in the jungles of Pachmarhi, where there was no access to traditional polish. His home exemplifies the beauty of wood, revealing its stories, textures, and versatility – a testament to the timelessness of this material in shaping our spaces.

'I AM STILL LEARNING THE ROPES OF THE INDUSTRY'

Says Rukmini Vasanth, who talks about how her philosophy and approach to projects have not changed as she discusses her upcoming film with Sriimurali, Bagheera, and more

A SHARADHAA

RUKMINI Vasanth, who has been in the industry since 2019, claimed her fame after the release of Sapta Sagaradaache Ello Side A and Side B, following which she even bagged a few awards. Having developed a dedicated fan base, audiences now wonder what to expect from her upcoming film, the Suri directorial Bagheera, in which she stars alongside Sriimurali.

Firstly, expressing her gratitude, Rukmini says, "It's truly touching when people look forward to seeing me on screen. It's an achievement to have built that reputation." Further, speaking about Bagheera, which is hitting theatres on October 31, she says one can look forward to an intense portrayal. "Regardless of the film or genre, I give my all. Audiences can expect a rich blend of drama and action from the film."

Expectations come with a weighty responsibility. When asked if this creates a challenge, Rukmini replies, "My philosophy hasn't changed much. I've always been cautious and thoughtful about the roles I take on, which has been the case since the beginning of my career. I don't confine myself to specific genres; I choose stories that connect with me and consider how much I can contribute to the film."

Reflecting on whether her thought process in choosing projects has changed with her recent successes and as she works with various stars across languages—Rukmini insists that she hasn't altered her approach. "When I collaborated on Sapta..., I worked with director Hemanth and actor Rakshit Shetty without the expectation of getting this kind of response. I feel that is the purest way of going about your work. That purity in the creative process is what I value. My hope is that our characters are noticed and loved, and I keep focusing on the experience of crafting them."

In Bagheera, Rukmini plays a doctor, a role she will also play in the upcoming Bhairathi Ranagal, starring Shivarajkumar and directed by Narthan. When asked if she ever wanted to be a doctor herself, she laughs and says, "No way! I don't have the skills for that. But the selflessness of doctors is admirable; it's a beautiful calling. I aimed to bring that spirit to my character."

Bagheera is particularly exciting for Rukmini, as it marks her first collaboration with Hombale Films, known for blockbusters like KGF and Kantara. She stars alongside Sriimurali, with the storyline coming from KGF director Prashanth Neel and Dr Suri directing. The film has Ajaneesh Loknath scoring the music and AJ Shetty as the cameraman. "Bagheera brings together an interesting team, which I was glad to be part of. As an actor, I want to explore as many genres as I can. When I got to be part of an action thriller, and when Dr Suri talked about the role and the impact it could create, I didn't think too much about screen time. If a character moves the film forward, I consider my contribution. The moment I learnt about Sneha and how much she could give to the film, I seized the opportunity, also considering the creative team I am part of."

When asked about contrast between heroines such as Malashree, Sudharani, Prema, and Rakshitha—who helped build the Kannada film industry—unlike today's heroines, who quickly move to other industries when they are on the rise, Rukmini opines, "I believe the question should be directed at filmmakers. We, as actors, are here because we connect with the stories writers and directors tell. Whether trends resurface is up to the filmmakers. I am still learning the ropes of the industry, so the language I work in should not matter. I feel fortunate that people appreciate the roles I play and give me opportunities to work in different genres and fit into various roles."

Rukmini is aware of being in the headlines constantly, due to her collaborations with big stars, noted directors, and production houses across languages, yet she remains grounded. "The fluctuations of the industry keep going on. I am just trying to keep my head down and do the work. It doesn't matter where opportunities arise," she signs off.

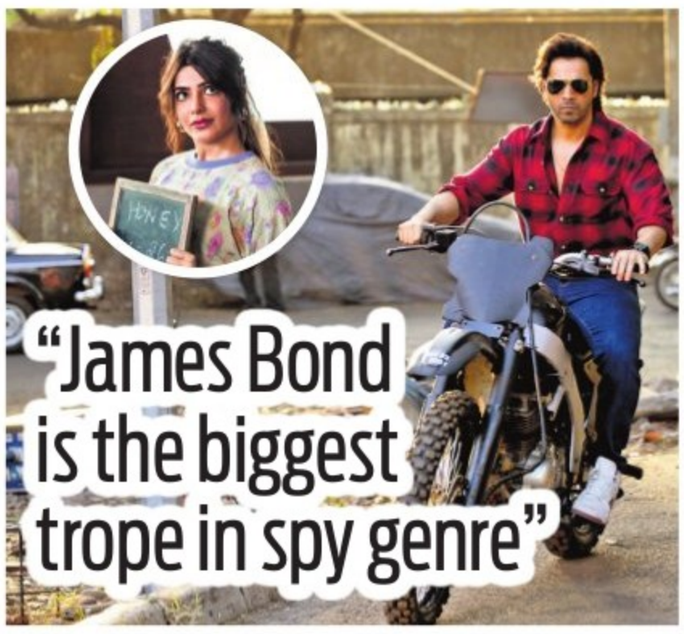
"James Bond is the biggest trope in spy genre"

KARTIK BHARDWAJ

IF James Bond is the world's best spy, imagine how his parents would be. This logline sparked the idea for Citadel: Honey Bunny, a new spy series from the quirk-house of Raj Nidimoru and Krishna DK. Their previous espionage outing The Family Man was also once described by DK as about 007 being a middle-class man, living in Mumbai's Chembur. "We seem to have a fixation," says DK with a laugh. Raj is quick to vent his vexation with the man who has the licence to kill. "He is the biggest trope in the spy genre. The smartest, most suave guy in the room who can get out of every situation," he says. "A tall, lanky man wearing cool suits and having a signature drink ("shaken, not stirred"). Is he really a camouflaging spy? You see him on screen and you will be like, wait, who's that guy?"

Raj and DK's desi spies are more inconspicuous. Samantha Ruth Prabhu and Varun Dhawan are Honey and Bunny, a struggling actor and a mullet-sporting stuntman in 90s Bollywood who moonlight as secret agents. The show is the Indian offshoot of the US espionage series Citadel, headlined by Priyanka Chopra and Richard Madden. In the trailer, Honey and Bunny are shown to have a young daughter named Nadia, the same as Priyanka's character, connecting the show to the mothership series. Samantha's kicks and chops in the second season of The Family Man might have served as an audition reel for Honey Bunny but this is Varun's maiden project with Raj and DK, also his first all-out actioner. "Before this, I had done psychological thriller/action in Badlapur (2015) or something more comical in Dishoom (2016). This was more of a you-mean-business kind of action. The training, however, was mostly about the mindset. For example, I am not supposed to smile while hitting people," says Varun with a grin. In the trailer he is seen slipping into dapper corduroy jackets, wearing a bandana and going off stunt ramps on a dirt bike. "He plays a stunt double to Ajay Devgn in the 90s," informs DK.

For Samantha, this time, the kicking and punching didn't come easy. The actor was suffering from dermatomyositis, a muscle inflammatory disorder, while she was filming for the series. "When I see it (the action sequences), I can't believe I actually did it," she says. "There were times when I had an IV in my arm in the morning and we were shooting intense combat scenes in the afternoon." Raj butts in with a laugh, "She lay there with a drip going and outside we were discussing how to stage the scene. Then I would go into the room and ask her 'Can you do it?' and she said 'I don't know'. Next thing you know, I said 'Action!', and she is jumping from one place to another." Varun adds, "I don't think most actors on set even knew what she was going through."



Raj and DK

Since their debut directorial 99, the 90s era seems to enthral Raj and DK as creators. Their previous show Guns and Gulaabs was also set in the pre-internet era, filled with the nostalgia of audio cassettes and STD phone booths. Honey Bunny is also set in the pre-mobile phone era. "The point was to take the tech away," says Raj. "With everybody having a smartphone these days, surveillance has become so easy. We wanted to get away from that and make it gritty and grounded. Nostalgia was of course, a flavour." Apart from love for the 90s, there also seems to be an undercurrent of disdain for cell phones in the works of Raj and DK. In 99, Kunal Kemmu and Cyrus Broacha play crooks who hate mobile phones but are in the business of duplicating sim cards. They have an amusing catchphrase which translates to: "Mobile's radiation causes cancer. Put it on your ear and your brain is finished. Put it in your patch pocket and your heart is finished and if you put it in your trouser pocket then generation...finished." In The Family Man, the most joyous scenes are of Manoj Bajpayee shouting expletives over a phone call. "We were the first generation to use mobile phones. People used to give each other missed calls all the time because calling rates were so expensive. Now this thing (mobile) is like a computer in your hands, but back then it used to be silly like that," says DK. "We didn't realise," adds Raj.

Mirzapur The Film in development

PANKAJ Tripathi, Ali Fazal, and Divyenndu's crime-thriller web series Mirzapur will be adapted into a film, the makers announced on Monday. It will be released in theatres in 2026. Created by Puneet Krishna and directed by Gurmmeet Singh, Mirzapur The Film will feature the characters from the show, Kaleen Bhaiya (Pankaj), Guddu Pandit (Ali) and Munna Tripathi (Divyenndu) along with Abhishek Banerjee who plays the role of Compounder.

The makers unveiled a promo video on Monday featuring Pankaj, Ali, Divyenndu and Abhishek. Producers Ritesh Sidhwani and Farhan Akhtar of Excel Entertainment said in a joint statement, "It is a landmark milestone for us to bring the quintessential Mirzapur experience to our audiences, yet again, but this time on the big screen. We believe that adapting such a treasured series into a film will undoubtedly make for an even more engrossing watch, allowing audiences to immerse themselves in the world of Mirzapur like never before. We are stoked to collaborate with Prime Video, once again, and look forward to delivering a grand cinematic experience, which will truly live up to the expectations of our dedicated fanbase." The first season of Mirzapur was released in 2018 on Prime Video, paving the way for subsequent seasons which were released in 2020 and in July earlier this year.

Kishore joins Salman Khan in Murugadoss's Sikandar

CE FEATURES

KISHORE, a multifaceted actor and an agriculturist, who is an established name in the Kannada film industry as well as Tamil and Telugu cinema, has started taking big strides in Bollywood. Having completed shooting for the Hindi film Drive, which is made in multiple languages, he has also wrapped up his portions for another Hindi project alongside Nawazuddin Siddiqui, which is yet to be released. However, the latest buzz surrounding Kishore's next Bollywood venture is that he is reportedly part of AR Murugadoss's highly anticipated film Sikandar, which is being produced by Sajid Nadiadwala. This film will have Kishore sharing the screen with Salman Khan and Rashmika Mandanna. Sources suggest that Kishore will play a prominent role and has already begun shooting his scenes, though official confirmation from the filmmakers is still pending. The ensemble cast of Sikandar also includes Suniel Shetty, Prateik Babbar, Chaitanya Choudhry, and Nawab Shah.

Kishore, who is frequently seen in Rajinikanth's films, including entertainers like Jailer and Vettaiyan, is also set to play a pivotal role in the upcoming film Coolie, directed by Lokesh Kanagaraj. The actor is also involved in a horror film titled 5, directed by Vikram, and a project with director Supreet based on Yakshagana. Additionally, there's a social drama titled Gutka, directed by Ganesh Hegde, among other projects, in the pipeline.

The actor, who has established himself in South Indian film industries, is making his mark in Bollywood as part of a big-ticket Hindi film produced by Sajid Nadiawala
